

M. E. CONFERENCE CHOOSES MOLINE FOR 1925 MEET

Date Will Be Set By Board Of Bishops— Election Held

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. Sept. 13. (AP)—The 1925 meeting of the Central Illinois conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will be held at the First Methodist Church at Moline, Ill., it was decided at the business meeting of the conference today at the Normal M. E. Church, Bishop Hughes presided.

The date for the meeting will be set by the board of bishops.

District superintendent, J. T. Jones, of the Rock Island district delivered the invitation to meet at Moline, which was accepted unanimously by the conference. The Moline church was dedicated during the last year.

The following men were elected to act as Triers of Appeals:

S. P. Archer, W. B. Shoop, A. C. Geyer, Fletcher DeClark, T. W. Thompson and W. R. Jeffery, Jr.

Rev. E. E. Hawkins and M. B. VanLeer, were elected as referees.

Rev. W. D. Evans, L. L. Pearce and E. E. Mochan were continued in superintendency relations.

D. S. Antikowich and A. E. Rowson were granted retired relations.

Thomas Nelson was permitted to withdraw from the conference to unite with the Presbyterian Church.

The afternoon program at the Normal Church included three addresses by members of the conference W. E. Shaw, of Peoria; H. A. Keck of Champaign, and John Johnson, of Carthage.

One of the most striking programs in the whole conference will be the ceremony held at the Normal University auditorium tomorrow morning. At 9 o'clock, Rev. U. Z. Gilmer of Normal and Rev. D. S. McCown of Knoxville will unite in leading a love feast.

Following the love feast, Bishop Hughes will deliver a sermon which will probably be one of the finest things of its type ever heard from this platform.

No other sessions will be held in Normal until Monday morning when the business sessions will be continued and the appointments for the coming year will be announced.

An impressive historical pageant tonight at the Illinois Wesleyan gymnasium depicting "one hundred years of Illinois Methodism" was the climax of the sessions of Illinois and Central Illinois conferences held here today. Two thousand people were in attendance.

The seven episodes told the history of Methodism thru the last hundred in Illinois. The outstanding scenes were the first where the beauties of the prairie led before the white man's invasion were symbolically portrayed; the camp meeting scene with Peter Cartwright; and the closing episodes when the general conference of 1924 went on record against war.

The pageant was written by Miss Mattie B. Simmonds, assistant professor of English and produced by Anne P. Laughlin, professor of dramatic art in Illinois Wesleyan university.

Prominent ministers of the two conferences will occupy a number of pulpits tomorrow. The main features will be the centennial sermons by Bishop McDowell in First Church here and Bishop Hughes in Normal university auditorium tomorrow morning. In the afternoon Rev. W. T. Beadles who has been in the conference 50 years will give a semi-centennial ordination sermon.

Appointments will be made by the Illinois conference at Normal Monday morning and by the Central Illinois conference later.

President J. R. Harker of the Illinois Woman's college at Jacksonville traced the history of church schools in the last hundred years. He gave reasons why church as well as state schools are necessary.

This after Rev. Herman Keck, Rev. W. E. Shaw and F. B. Madden gave talks on the conference of 1924 at a joint session in Normal Methodist church. Mrs. E. W. Matthews of Columbus, Ohio, addressed a joint session of the S. W. H. M. S., of the two conferences, tracing the general history of the movement during 100 years.

A banquet of 75 conference alumni of Illinois Wesleyan university was addressed by Bishop Hughes who gave his views on modernism as the church.

"Evolutionism is as probably a believer in higher criticism as I probably am, no man in my 20 years in the Methodist ministry has ever heard me utter a single doubt about the redeeming power of Jesus Christ," he said.

MILLIONAIRE'S SONS ARE READY FOR REST AFTER DAY'S LABORS

Leopold's Hands Scratched and Sore From Work With Rattan

JOLIET, Ill. Sept. 13. (AP)—Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, who began their sentences of life and 99 years in the state penitentiary here Thursday for the murder of Bobby Franks sought rest early tonight after their first day of manual labor in the prison furniture shops.

Leopold's tender hands were scratched and sore from handling the elusive rattan, from which he is making furniture. The material is as rough as sand paper and the youth's first day with it proved destructive to the softness of his skin.

Immediately after his evening meal tonight, Leopold sought the hard bunk he will use the rest of his life and threw himself upon it, worn out.

Loeb, the tired, fared better. Hammers, saws and chisels are his chief implements in the chair factory. They are more adjustable to soft hands than is rattan.

Youth was as fit tonight as this morning. He was ready for his bunk however, when led to his cell.

Both slayers will have an opportunity to attend church services tomorrow. Prison authorities said tonight that they were not aware of what the boys were going to do on Sunday. They have their choice of attending services in the chapel or remaining in their cells. Fellow convicts are wondering, especially, what Leopold, the "sophisticated" man, will do with his time.

Monday, work will begin in earnest for the boys.

CHICAGO READY TO GIVE FLIERS ROYAL WELCOME

Silver Cigarette Boxes To Be Presented To Full Crew

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Preparations to welcome the army world fliers, who are expected to land here about noon Tuesday, will be completed at a special meeting of the reception committee called for tomorrow.

At a meeting of the committee held before definite word was received of the fliers' plans, it was voted that silver cigarette boxes will be presented not only to the fliers who will be here, but to Major F. L. Martin and Sergeant Alva Harvey, the fliers who set out on the round the world trip but met with grief in Alaska.

Preparations will be made to serve 500 at the dinner to the fliers Tuesday evening. Several relatives of at least one of the fliers, Lieutenant Leigh Wade of the Boston II, are expected. All illuminated laudation on parchment will be presented to each flier.

The fliers will skirt the lake front incoming in circling over the Grant Park stadium. From the lake they will fly to the landing field.

After being welcomed at the field, they will be given an opportunity to eat luncheon. They will return to the field for refueling after which they will dine.

The dinner will be brief without speeches in mercy to the fliers' need for early retirement and rest, according to the reception committee. Wednesday morning they will set out for Seattle, Wash., the last loop in their round the world hop.

The question of security is definitely linked in all minds with that of arbitration and the delegates are experiencing considerable difficulty in drawing up any plan of security without taking into account the assembly's view on arbitration. Some of the delegates urged today that entire emphasis should be placed on arbitration and security, others advocated that the problem of disarmament should be given first place. Still others believed that the arbitration and security agreements should become effective only when the disarmament conference is held.

Eventually the French won the day. That is, that any convention referring to arms and security would be distinct and separate, the two would be clearly understood that when the powers signed this convention they pledged themselves to take part in disarmament conference.

Dr. Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia, was appointed to prepare the text of the convention as a basis for further discussions. Great Britain, France, Japan, Sweden, Norway and Czechoslovakia participated in the debate.

WORLD WAR HERO IS KILLED IN RUNAWAY

AURORA, Ill. Sept. 13.—Captain Howard Sanders, 36, a world war veteran who enlisted as a private at the outbreak of the war and won a commission in the fighting in France, today is dead of injuries sustained yesterday when his horse fell with him and ran away as the officer dangled by one stirrup. The accident happened at Exposition Park north of Aurora, where Captain Sanders fought with his command, the 129th Illinois field artillery following a defense day parade in Aurora in which the battery had taken part. The armory is at Exposition Park.

Captain Sanders served during the war with the 132nd regiment commanded by General Abel Davis who pronounced him "one of the two best bayonet men in the whole 3rd division."

In July 1918 Captain Sanders, then a second lieutenant, was cited for bravery and advanced to a first lieutenant. He was wounded in the fighting on the Albert front sector in this month. He was cited for exceptional gallantry again in October while engaged in the Meuse-Argonne fighting. October 10 he was gassed. He remained in a government hospital after this until January 1919. After recovering his health Captain Sanders was assigned to command of Battery B, 124th field artillery, Illinois national guard.

The captain was to have been married in a few months to Miss Agnes Kirby.

Aviators Welcomed By Dayton Friends

DAYTON, Ohio, Sept. 13.—The six aviators. It was a genuine homecoming for Lieutenants John Harding and Erik Nelson for McCook Field is their home station. Lieutenant Leigh Wade also was stationed at the field two years ago and all of the fliers have scores of personal friends at McCook and Wilbur Wright Fields.

McCook Field is the army aviation experiment station. The fliers are being quartered at a local hotel. At their expressed wishes little entertainment has been arranged for them. What they want particularly to do while here, they said, is to rest and renew friendships.

Their planes were wheeled in to hangars at McCook Field almost as soon as they left them and mechanics swarmed over them to give the engines a complete overhauling and servicing. Crews will work on the ships all night, new men going on the job at midnight. Lieutenant Smith probably will decide tomorrow whether new engines will be installed or not.

The next hop, to Chicago is 175 miles in an air line.

ANNUAL MEETING OF
LABOR FEDERATION
BROUGHT TO CLOSE

President States Unemployment Has Crippled Organization

PEORIA, Ill. Sept. 13. (AP)—Making his concluding address at the 42nd annual convention of the Illinois State Federation of Labor which adjourned here today President John H. Walker, advised the delegates that the federation is powerless to form "unemployed councils" in this state. Such action, as recommended in a resolution presented by miners from Dowell, he said, could only be taken individually by the various unions which compose the federation.

Unemployment of unionists, especially the miners, he said, had cut down the delegation and had crippled the federation financially. For the first time in late years, he said, the federation would not pay the sergeants at arms, who had served the convention. It was for this reason, he added that he had only named members of the executive council as sergeants.

He added the adoption of the resolution for unemployment relief would be construed as instructing the officials to cooperate in every way possible with the unions who have unemployment programs.

The resolution referred to provided that "we declare ourselves in favor of the organization of unemployed councils, which shall conduct agitation thru public meetings, demonstrations, and deputations sent to factories and local governmental officers for the purpose of agitation for relief for unemployed."

"Such unemployed councils shall consist of delegates from trade unions and other labor organizations."

CAIRO NEWSPAPER
STOPS PUBLICATION

CAIRO, Sept. 13. (AP)—The Bulletin, the oldest morning daily in southern Ill., was facing present suspension today owing to the fact that the heads of the various departments have left the paper since yesterday. The Bulletin started 56 years ago. This morning's issue was, according to an announcement, the last for an indefinite period.

Financial difficulties were given as the reason for the department heads quitting the paper, it was said by the city editor.

TWO NEGROES HELD FOR FREIGHT CAR MURDER

Monmouth, Ill. Sept. 13. (AP)—Two negroes, William Ross, of Columbus, Ohio, and Robert Stevenson, Kansas City, Mo., were held today by a coroner's jury charged with the murder of Harry Thomas, Thomas died today of wounds received when he was held up by two negroes. It is charged, while all were riding in a freight car.

DAVIS' TACTICS FORMERLY USED SUFFER CHANGES

Confidence Increases
As He Proceeds
With Campaign

TOPEKA, Kans., Sept. 13.—With an apparently mounting confidence, John W. Davis, carried his fight for the presidency across the western plains today thru Nebraska and Kansas in a series of addresses beginning before breakfast at Kearney, Neb., in a driving rain and ending tonight here in the capital of the Sunflower state.

When the Democratic standard bearer began his drive thru this territory a week ago he was content to make his promises on the basis of "if" or "should" he become president, but today he told his auditors that "after" he became chief executive next March, he would use every endeavor of heart and mind to furnish a government of honesty and courage and of justice.

There also was another change of tactics by Mr. Davis. Heretofore he had confined his assault wholly to the record of the administration of government by the Republican party but now he is naming the Progressive party and appealing to the independent voters desiring a "government of progress" to vote the Democratic ticket because, as he put it, no one could contend that the Progressive party could hope to capture the presidency and a majority of two houses of congress.

Moreover in his talk at Grand Island, Neb., where he was joined by and introduced by his running mate, Governor Charles W. Bryan, Mr. Davis vigorously assailed the proposal of Senator La Follette, the Progressive party's standard bearer, that congress and the legislatures of the several states be given the proper veto over the supreme court on the question of the constitutionality of legislative acts.

Declaring that he had caught as he had gone up and down the western plains some of the "breath of freedom and independence that blows across them," Mr. Davis said he realized that no matter what might happen elsewhere, never from the people of this section "shall one fraction of their liberties be filched."

WARFARE IN CHINA
IS NOW SPREADING THRUOUT ALL PARTS

Part Of Provinces Remaining Neutral To See How It Goes

SHANGHAI, Sept. 14. (AP)—While the armies of Chekiang and Kiangsu are carrying on their minor war in the areas west and southwest of this city the greater armies of the leaders of the eternal strife in China are massing in their respective provinces forces which will decide the future of the republic.

General Chang Tso-Lin of Manchuria, who declared war against General Wu Pei-Fu of Chihli in a proclamation, accusing the latter of inciting Kiangsu against Chekiang, is gathering his army at Mukden and sending it south to the Chihli frontier. These troops have been under training of former Russian and Japanese officers, according to reports, at Kirin and other centers.

Wu is sending his forces northward to meet this move and fighting is looked for on the fields where in 1922 Chihli drove back the same invaders. The Chihli armies will be headed by the Christian army and General Feng Yu-Hsiang, which in the previous war bore the shock of the fighting.

Dr. Sun Yet-Sen, the southern leader, although threatened with civil war in his own province of Kwangtung, is moving northward with a small army apparently to strike into Fukien province, to attack General Sun Chuang-Fang, a lieutenant of Wu, who has recently reported to have gone north with a force to invade Chekiang.

That it is a war with Chiang, Sun and Lu Yang-Hsiang joining forces against Wu and the central government of Peking, with Kiangsu and any other provinces that the Peking authorities can induce to support the latter, Fukien is reported to be divided between Peking and Chekiang, while other provinces are apparently waiting to see how the fighting goes.

The battle near Huangta west of here was resumed last night despite the rain but generally there is less activity than there has been.

Rockford, Ill. Sept. 13.—At a meeting of LaFollette supporters in this, the twelfth congressional district, held in DeKalb today, M. Parsons, Belvidere, was nominated as a candidate for congress on the LaFollette ticket. Congressman Charles E. Fuller is the Republican nominee. There was no Democratic candidate in the primaries.

Mr. Parsons, who formerly was a manufacturer in Belvidere has been devoting his time to Progressive political circles for some time.

WHEELER EXPLAINS PROGRESSIVE STAND ON MANY QUESTIONS

Democrats Criticized For Failure On Child Labor
Amendment

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13. (AP)—A constitutional doctrine which Senator LaFollette and himself uphold in their campaign before the nation was described tonight before a Philadelphia audience by Senator Wheeler of Montana, vice presidential candidate on the independent ticket. They stood for the direct amendment of the federal constitution to abolish child labor, he declared and they stood for a limitation of the powers of federal courts to declare laws unconstitutional.

"We do not propose that Senator LaFollette when elected president shall by executive order attempt to impair the authority of the courts. We know he could not even if he were so disposed. All we propose is that the extent to which courts shall have the right to nullify acts of congress shall be settled by the people themselves. They shall settle it by the adoption or rejection of an amendment to the constitution exactly specifying just how much authority the courts should have."

"In the meantime, however, we shall endeavor to administer justice somewhat differently from the manner in which it has been administered in recent years. We shall not have a department of justice in which the men who own the Pennsylvania railroad have more influence than the thousands of men who operate the railroad. We shall not have an attorney general applying to a federal judge appointed by himself for an injunction to prevent a railway shipment from exercising almost every human right that God has given him."

In a discussion he charged the Democratic party with failing to declare effectively for the child labor amendment. That was one of the reasons, he added, why "so many Democrats, like myself," have turned to the Progressive movement as offering hope of restored human liberty in America.

Senator Wheeler will remain in Philadelphia tonight going to New York City tomorrow.

Eighteen billion dollars are invested in the public utility industry in the United States. The electric light and power industry heads the list with an investment of $5,800,000,000. Interesting comparisons are with the automobile industry's investment of less than $1,800,000,000, or that in the steel and iron industry which is $3,577,513,900. It is interesting to know that the number of people investing in public utility securities is constantly increasing.

In Vicksburg the women patronize the barber shops so heavily that men are endeavoring to put a ban on bobbing Saturday afternoon. Since bobbed hair seems to have come to stay, wouldn't it be saner to have more barber shops and more barbers instead of bans?

Jacksonville was very much livelier the past week because the public schools opened. There will be still greater activity this week as the college students assemble. If the money were available these local institutions could expand in a way that would bring still other hundreds of students to Jacksonville.

Ex Governor Charles S. Deneen is coming to Jacksonville next Wednesday for an address on political issues. Mr. Deneen is a candidate for the U.S. senatorship on the Republican ticket. If he follows his usual custom he will say little about himself or the office he is seeking, but instead will discuss problems of national importance as they affect the people of the state of Illinois.

Mr. Deneen is clear and concrete, doesn't deal in generalities, and his address next Wednesday night can be anticipated as an instructive consideration of the real campaign issues.

GOLDEN RULE COLLISION
The motor millennium must have arrived in Kansas City. Here is a traffic incident vouched for by a veracious newspaper reporter:

A motor car driven by a cigar dealer struck a man from Wichita Kan., as he was crossing a boulevard and knocked him into the gutter. The car stopped, a crowd collected and a policeman came up.

"Are you hurt?" asked the automobilist solicitously.

"No—not much," replied the Wichita man apologetically. "Just a few bruises."

"Do you want this man arrested?" asked the policeman.

"No, it was all my fault," said the pedestrian. "I should have been more careful."

"I'll buy you a new suit," said the automobilist, offering his business card.

"Don't think about it," protested the pedestrian, as he walked off.

The motorist appears to have acted as any good citizen should.

TO YOU FROM FAR AWAY

BY ALBERT APPLE

It costs $650 freight charges to haul a carload of low-grade lumber from the Pacific Coast to New York City.

This is typical of the "transportation problem"—the penalty for consumers living too far from sources of production.

New York state used to grow its own lumber. It still would be, if forests had been conserved, replanted systematically.

You have observed the tendency of industries to center each in a special district of the country. Shoes have been made in and around Boston, autos in Detroit, meat in Chicago, steel in Pittsburgh. And so on.

All this is a part of our age of specialization. Communities or districts of the country are getting so each has its own specialty, just as each individual has his "skilled line."

Usually industries congregate in particular sections because there they are close to fuel supply, near the raw materials they need, or strategically situated for distribution.

But when low-grade lumber is hauled from the Pacific Coast to New York which could grow its own lumber, and machinery is hauled from New York to the Pacific Coast which could make its own, the cost of long-distance transportation more than eats up the savings due to specialization by districts.

Yes, we are too far from sources of production. That's the real "transportation problem." The solution? It will shape itself naturally, by economic evolution. The final result is difficult to foresee. But there's an increasing tendency for districts of the country to have acted under the circumstances. The pedestrian, as every motorist will admit, was a model. This Golden Rule spirit is obviously calculated to end the feud between the two classes. A little more of the same spirit however, applied before accidents instead of after them, would be a good thing.

COUNTY HEALTH WORK
Occasionally one hears criticism for Morgan county officials for pioneering in the county-wide health service, but an impartial study of the figures would show that the plan has not only been a step toward better health conditions, but has really saved money as well.

The Decatur Review in advocating county-wide public health service for Macon county, said recently:

"The proposal laid before the board of supervisors that a county-wide public health service be instituted, has a great deal of merit."

"Many health authorities are of the opinion that a city and the county in which it is situated should not be independent in health matters, but should be considered as integral parts of a single administrative unit."

"Epidemics do not halt at the city limits. And in such matters as pure water and pure milk, action must be carried beyond the city boundaries. The prevention of disease and the promotion of better health may well be carried out for both city and county by a common organization."

"The growth of county health work in the United States is interesting. At the end of last year there were 230 counties in twenty-eight states with full-time health organizations. The number grows each year. In Ohio, forty-eight percent of the counties now have such units, in Alabama thirty-one percent, in New Mexico twenty-seven percent, and in South Carolina twenty-one percent."

HERE FROM KANKAKEE
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Taylor of Kankakee are here to spend Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gray at their home on West State street. Mr. Taylor, who is now district manager for the Illinois Belle Telephone Co. at Kankakee, finds that city a very satisfactory place of residence, but has by no means forgotten Jacksonville and his many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Meyer of this city and Mr. and Mrs. S. A. D. Whitlock of Murrayville expect to attend the State Fair today.

try to make themselves self-supporting.

For instance, many can recall when nearly all iron and steel came from the Pittsburgh district. Pittsburgh still is the king pin. But gigantic steel industries are growing up at faroff points such as Gary and Birmingham.

Shoe making used to be almost monopolized by the Boston district. Today shoes are made everywhere.

The high cost of railroad hauls is destined to break up the industrial specialization by districts.

Fugitive
Alabama man fled his home 22 years ago, thinking he had killed a man. All these years he has kept under cover, suffering the tortures of remorse. Recently he learned that the man he shot recovered and lived. His soul paid a price for something he didn't do.

This victim of fate's irony involves interesting problems in philosophy. For instance, if a man tries to murder an enemy and his crime is frustrated by his cartridges being blanks, is his intent as evil as the actual deed? The law says not, even though the man did everything in his power to accomplish the killing.

Tourists
Back from Europe, friend tells us he had to pay $30 a day for a room in a second-grade hotel in London. So it's easy to believe that American tourists are leaving 300 million dollars over there this year, as experts claim. Three hundred thousand made the trip this summer.

One big result of this is that foreign currencies have been propped up by the demand for foreign money by Yank tourists.

FRANK MAYO
NORMAN KERRY
MILDRED HARRIS
EVELYN BRENT, in
"The SHADOW of the EAST"

Much has been written and said about these light loves of the East which men leave so easily, but when Lolare, made with tempestuous love for the rather unresponsive Englishman and with jealousy for an English girl who was visiting India, finally commits suicide, Barry finds it not so easy to forget.

He returns to England—even marries Gillian Locks—but still the Shadow of the East hangs over him and becomes a barrier between him and all the things he would hold dear.

Unable to bear the torture of it, he goes back at last to aid in a war a young shiek is waging against his enemies. He leaves a note telling Gillian the dark secret of his past and his desire for atonement through death in a war. Gillian follows him to India and, regardless of her own danger, to the very field of battle.

So, in the end, it is her husband, whom she hoped to rescue, who rescues her. And then she finds that he no longer is in need of rescuing for in the thick of the battle, he has redeemed his soul and the Shadow of the East has at last lifted. Frank Mayo, Mildred Harris and Norman Kerry appear in the principal roles of this production.

JAY EMBE'S CRUMBS

Crums From the Leopold-Loeb Case

The world, your world, my world and their world has closed its doors upon Leopold and Loeb, youthful slayers of a school mate. Only God's world is now open to them. No wonder Pope said "To err is human, to forgive, divine." Only Divinity can forgive, and the extent to which one can forgive measures his kinship with the Divine.

There is no way of escape from punishment for sin, even forgiveness does not wipe away punishment.

Intellectuality without God is dangerous. Worse than war-guns and ammunition and army and navy paraphernalia. It is the most deadly of all poison gases.

Let man be an atheist if he wants to, but let no atheist be allowed to follow the sacred profession of teaching.

There would be many college and universities vacancies if all atheist professors were dismissed.

Only God fearing men and women have a right to handle the human mind of the youth of our land guiding it thru the chaotic adolescence of plastic boyhood and girlhood into responsible manhood and womanhood.

It is a trite saying that the youth of today are the men and women of tomorrow, but why with such a fact facing us, do we sit calmly by making no protest, and let men and women, though they have letters after their names a yard long, get up before our children and tell them there is no God? No Divine Love? No higher Power? That all in this world is chance?

There should be a housecleaning in intellectual corners where only darkness sits enthroned.

With God is the only wisdom, because He is Wisdom.

To us who see our loved ones every day, two weeks seems a long time not to hear from them. A recent paper stated that prisoners are allowed to write but once in two weeks.

Sin casts a shadow a long way and punishment reflects pain many miles beyond the prison walls.

We do not live alone unto ourselves, nor die alone unto ourselves, nor sin alone unto ourselves.

How far reaching is a single act of one's life, be it for good or bad, the results travel beyond our limited vision. Only conjecture attempts to name the fabulous sums of money that have been put in circulation into varied channels; its ramifications never ending, and the highest imagination cannot picture the agony of soul of the three main families connected with the tragedy.

We're Thankful
We're thankful that scientists still think plants have no suffering when we cut their beautiful blossoms, for while their beauty and fragrance fill such a great place in the sick room as well as for the mere pleasure of having them for decorative purposes, we should be loath to have their comfort and beauty at the price of pain either to the blossom or plant.

A Rap at the Movies
Shaw may be hard on the movies, but we are with him when it comes to rapping on the film after film that we have to read of all the employees who helped make the picture, while we dare not forego reading for fear we lose some explanation relative to the story at hand.

How good it is to see our boys and girls, and young women and young men "back on the job" at the various educational plants in the city. Vacations are all right but things do get dull, and we're glad they don't last away.

China, South America, Macedonia, Epirus and Corfu, Russia, England, Germany, France all are in more or less a state of turmoil or war. What a joy to be in U. S. A. even the presidential year!

If Mt. Ararat is developed into a summer and winter playground one should feel reasonably assured he would be safe from a flood. Noah found it such.

KAYSER ORCHESTRA
COMING HERE SOON
Joe Kayser and his orchestra of eight star musicians will play for the dance at Auto Inn Wednesday, night, Sept. 17th. Mr. Kayser has played many successful engagements throughout the middle west. This is his second engagement in Jacksonville. Joy Kayser and his orchestra have been Springfield's favorite orchestra and there will no doubt be a large crowd here from Springfield to attend the dance.

FORMER RESIDENT IS VISITOR HERE

George Van Houten, who was resident here when a boy, was in the city yesterday renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Van Houten left Jacksonville when 13 years of age, going to Taylorville where he made his home for several years and where his father and mother died. Later he located in Newark, N. J., which city is still his home. He has served for 25 years on the police force in Newark and is now on the pensioned list.

Mr. Van Houten was in Taylorville to see the graves of his parents and took advantage of the opportunity to visit the city which was his boyhood home.

Alonzo McNeely of south of Murrayville was a caller in the city yesterday.

MORGAN CO. LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

UNITING FOR SERVICE

There has never been such general interest in getting out the vote regardless of politics as there is expressed this year. The following list shows how extensive is the thought permeating so many organizations, very different in their scope of activities, yet uniting with the National League of Women Voters to make America a representative government in fact as well as theory: American Association of University Women, American Federation of Labor, American Home Economics Association, Commission on the Church and Social Service of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, General Federation of Women's Clubs, Professional Woman's Club, Girls' Friendly Societies in America, National Board of Young Women's Christian Association, National Congress of Mothers and Parent Teachers Associations, National Council of Jewish Women, National Council of Women, National Educational Association, National Farmers' Union, National Grange, National Municipal League, National Pan Hellenic Conference, National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, National Woman's Trade Union League, Service Star Legion.

DeLuxe Bulletin

All members of any county League of Women Voters of the state of Illinois will receive the latter part of the month a special "DeLuxe" number of the Bulletin, which will be the pre-election number, and will contain election information. It will be addressed, appearing in the same size as the regular subscribers numbers, there will be on sale more than 20,000 copies. Those having first hand knowledge concerning it speak for it a great popularity and still greater usefulness as its pages will be filled with the news women are so anxious to know, authentic information, politically.

New Organizations

Miss Edith Rockwood, executive secretary of the Illinois League of Women Voters states at a recent executive board meeting that ten new county organizations are being effected. There is no question of the great good the league is doing throughout the state in broadcasting knowledge along political lines. The local league is planning its October activities to include a Citizenship Round Table on the subject of election and candidates, regardless of political affiliations.

I. S. D. BAND TO GIVE CONCERT THIS EVENING

The Deaf Boys Band will give a public concert on the lawn at the School for the Deaf this evening from 7 to 8 o'clock, to which the general public is invited.

Their appearance in the Defense Day parade Friday evening, leaves no doubt that the deaf boys are making great progress along musical lines, the band receiving much applause along the line of march. Major Fancher has also increased the number of band members and all of the boys are showing the keenest interest in their work. The concert given previous to their summer vacation were enjoyed by a great many people on Sunday evenings, and will no doubt continue to increase as long as these open air concerts are continued this fall.

DES MOINES POLICE RETURNED TO DUTY

DES MOINES, Sept. 13. (AP)—Superintendent of Public Safety John Jenney, today ordered police captain, William Davies and two policemen recently suspended by the city council to be returned to work in a communication to Chief of Police Cavender today.

Jenney's order defies a ruling by the city council suspending the men pending a hearing before the civil service commission on charges of aiding Ku Klux Klan photographers in taking fraudulent photographs to be used as anti-Catholic propaganda during the meeting here of the National Conference of Catholic Charities.

PERSHING'S RECORD CAUSE OF HIS RISE IN MILITARY LIFE

Newton D. Baker's Letter to Legion Explains Circumstances.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—General Pershing's military record and his fidelity to orders from Washington while in command of the then Mexican punitive expedition were the outstanding factors in his selection as commander of the American Expeditionary Forces in France, it is disclosed in a letter from Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, which The American Legion Weekly prints tomorrow.

Seven years afterward, in an issue which The Legion has devoted to commemorating General Pershing's retirement from active army service September 12, the "inside story of his appointment as commander-in-chief by the late president Woodrow Wilson," is first told, according to the story.

"It is disclosed that Mr. Wilson regarded Wood as insubordinate," the story says.

General Pershing was appointed by President Wilson on Secretary Baker's recommendation. Mr. Baker's letter shows, based on Pershing's past record. Neither the president nor the secretary had met the man of their choice until after the selection had been made.

Secretary Baker's recommendation, approved by General Hugh L. Scott, then chief of staff, was based, he states, on a careful study of the records of all the general officers and senior colonels in the regular army at that time. The selection was made with special attention to the fact that the man appointed would ultimately have under his command a very large force.

"Pershing's record and especially his fidelity to orders from Washington while in command of the then recent punitive expedition into Mexico were the outstanding factors in the choice," continues the story. "For reasons of international policy, the general had not been given a free hand to conduct that expedition along lines dictated purely by military considerations. In that difficult position, Pershing had proceeded strictly along the very explicit and positive lines laid down by President Wilson himself."

Mr. Baker's letter, written from his law offices in Cleveland, is in full as follows:

"The story you ask is interesting and has never been told, and I know of no reason why you should not have it exactly."

"When it was determined in 1917 to send an expeditionary force to France, I remarked to General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff, that it would be necessary to send a commander who would ultimately become commander-in-chief of a very large force, and asked him to have sent to my house all records of all the general officers and senior colonels of the regular army."

"These records I studied for some days and finally, purely on the basis of the records, selected General Pershing, whom I had never seen. My judgment, however, was reinforced by the fact that General Pershing had been in command of the punitive expedition in Mexico, with which I had been in daily contact by telegraph, over a long period of time. "The punitive expedition in Mexico had a most difficult and responsible task and its leader was required to exercise tact, self-restraint and consideration for the rights of the Mexican people in a very high degree. The desires of the president with regard to that expedition were explicit and positive, and the limitations imposed on General Pershing's freedom as a military commander were dictated by considerations of public policy rather than military expediency. General Pershing met all the requirements, with splendid ability and loyalty to the wishes of the president as commander-in-chief."

"Further, the (Mexican) expeditionary force under General Pershing was the largest body of troops in active service which any American general (then on the active list) had commanded. "After I had made my selection I submitted it to the criticism of General Scott, who approved it. I then carried it to President Wilson, discussed it with him briefly, told him how I had arrived at it, and it met with his approval. I at once telegraphed General Pershing in code to report to me at Washington, which he did. He and I had many conferences, he establishing himself in an office in the War Department, where, in cooperation with the chief of staff, the preliminary plans for the expeditionary force were worked out."

Cattle Industry in Readjustment

Roger W. Babson Thinks Present Bitter Medicine

BAECON PARK, Mass., Sept. 12.—Since the resuscitation of Wilson & Co., the great packers of Chicago, Roger W. Babson has been making a study of the packing house situation with special reference to the cattle business. An exclusive summary of his report follows:

"It has generally been known that the cattle raisers of the country have suffered severe losses during the past few years, but few realize the extent to which the business has been liquidated," says the statistician. "Briefly, the situation is that before the war, in 1914, cattle were selling at around $9.00 per cwt. on the hoof in Chicago. The price went up to $17.30 in August 1919. By December 1921 it had declined to a low of $6.40. The present price is approximately $9.50 per cwt. Live beef is selling in Chicago at about pre-war prices. All costs in the industry meantime are of course on the post-war scale. Considering that there are as many, or more, cattle in the country today than ever before this means a loss of hundreds of millions of dollars, which has been absorbed all the way down the line from the ranch men on the prairies of the great West to the grocers who sell the canned beef. Everyone connected with the industry has suffered almost continual losses since August 1919. The result of this has been that the country is dotted with failures here and there starting with the farmers and the ranch men and running thru to the great packers of Chicago. Other great industries, such as copper, leather and oils are in the process of liquidation and readjustment; but none of them have suffered so severely as has the cattle business."

"This very fact, however, makes me optimistic rather than pessimistic on the cattle industry at the present time. The failure of Wilson & Co. may be the storm before the clearing. It is always darkest just before dawn and a general cleaning up seems to be inevitable before an industry again begins on the upward trend. The liquidation in the cattle industry has been very drastic. Farmers, cattle men and packers have taken tremendous losses. Ranches in the West which sold for $100,000 ten years ago can now be bought for one-half or one-third this sum. In some states, like Wyoming, the cattle industry is becoming almost extinct. The ranch men are gradually closing out business and shipping their last cattle. These very facts, however, lead me to believe that the liquidation is about complete and that conditions should soon improve. Surely when a man is flat on his back there is only one way he can look; namely, upward. The cattle industry is certainly on its back at the present time."

"Personally I am more hopeful on the price of beef for the long pull than I am on the price of some other products. As people become more prosperous they eat more beef, that is, the consumption of beef increases even where the population remains constant. This is not so in the case of wheat, for instance. A well-to-do family does not eat any more wheat than a poor family, and probably not as much. On the other hand, a well-to-do family does spend more on beef than a poor family. Of course, the beef industry has been severely hit by the automobile. Many people who have bought automobiles during the past few years have found it necessary to economize on something in order to pay up their notes on the automobile and buy gasoline, oil and tires. One of the few things they could economize on was beef. They found it not essential to existence and that they could get on with less than they formerly purchased. However, as the country gets adjusted to each family having an automobile the demand for beef will again increase. People have always eaten beef and always will. Without doubt over a long period of years the per capita consumption is bound to increase. I am optimistic on the beef industry for the long pull."

"Why has not this decline in the price of cattle been reflected more in the retail price of meat products?" Mr. Babson was asked. To which question he frankly replied, "I don't know." Continuing he said:

"Statistics clearly indicate that the consumer has not yet received the benefit of the decline of cattle on the hoof. Why, I don't know. If the packers were making big money now we would know that they were benefiting in this decline in the price of cattle. As above stated, however, no one is making money and the price to the consumer is still fairly high. This must mean that there is some weakness in the system of distribution. It may be that the railroads, or the trucks, or the real estate interests, or some other group are clogging the route of beef from the hoof to the home. The Department of Agriculture at Washington is making some studies of this situation, and those who are interested should write to Secretary Wallace for the results of these surveys. Without doubt the price of meat products should be lower to the consumer, but how to bring this about with everyone losing money is a difficult problem. Important interests are now at work endeavoring to untie the knot. It is very possible that it may have to be cut with a knife. This thought may have been in the mind of the judge who appointed the receiver for Wilson & Co. Of course, such drastic treatment temporarily hurts business—the Babson chart shows general activity at 12 percent, below normal—but in the long run it often is for the best."

Announce Engagement At Pretty Luncheon

The engagement of Miss Lois Harney to Mr. Leon Hardin, was announced at a luncheon given at the Congregational church, when Miss Harney entertained with the members of the Yojoasov Camp Fire as guests. The luncheon tables were beautifully appointed, and were centered with baskets of pink and white roses. A decorative scheme in pink and white was attractively carried out throughout the luncheon.

Those serving included the members of the Okie Camp Fire, with Misses Helen Harney, Elizabeth Wainwright, Margaret Forrest and Laura Young. The mode of announcement included the presentation to each guest of a small kewpie doll to which was attached a miniature piece of music, bearing the names of the couple.

The guest list was limited to the members of the Yojoasov Camp Fire, and Miss Gertrude Tompkins of Springfield, was an out-of-town guest.

The wedding will be an October event. Miss Harney, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Harney of 269 South Fayette

Menus for a Family

Breakfast—Grapefruit, scrambled eggs on toast, bacon, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Stuffed baked tomatoes, graham bread and butter sandwiches, baked peaches, plan cookies, milk, tea.

Dinner—Pot roast of beef, mashed potatoes, baked squash, vegetable salad, frozen caramel junket, milk, coffee, whole wheat bread, Parker House rolls, butter, peach butter.

Perhaps you will prefer to serve just the juice of the grapefruit slightly sweetened to the 4-year-old member of your family about a half hour before he eats his breakfast.

Children under 6 years should not eat warm rolls and bread-stuffs. Consequently, if father wants hot rolls for dinner, "Johnny" must be provided with bread at least a day old.

Stuffed Baked Tomatoes—Four smooth medium sized tomatoes, 1 cup boiled rice, 4 tablespoons grated cheese, 1 egg, salt and pepper.

Beat egg slightly, add rice, cheese, salt and pepper, and mix well. Wash tomatoes and cut a slice from the stem end. Scoop out seeds. Sprinkle inside of tomato with salt and let stand, inverted, in a cold place for half an hour. Fill with rice mixture, arrange in a baking dish and bake half an hour. Baste every 10 minutes with 1-2 cup water and 1 tablespoon butter brought to the boiling point.

Turn into mold or ice cream freezer, pack in salt and ice and let stand 15 minutes. Scrape down sides of mold and beat in cream whipped until stiff. Let stand two or three hours, scraping down the sides of the mold with a spatula three or four times to insure even freezing. This receipt is for a crankless freezer.

MISS FLORENCE BELT WEDS MR. C. B. HALE

Former Jacksonville Resident Is Married at Keokuk—Has Many Friends Here.

The many friends in this city will be pleasantly surprised to learn of the marriage of Miss Florence Mary Belt to Curtis Byron Hale at Keokuk, Iowa. The ceremony which was made double by the marriage of Miss Madeline Connable and James Stewart Wells also of Keokuk, was performed Wednesday morning, Sept. 10 at the home of Miss Belt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Belt, who reside at the suburban home, "Fairview." The ceremony uniting Miss Belt and Mr. Hale was performed by Rev. George Giggler of St. Mary's church and was celebrated in the presence of only the immediate families of the contracting parties.

Miss Belt is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Belt well known to Jacksonville friends as former citizens. Mr. Belt was for a number of years manager of the Jacksonville baseball team while in the Central Association.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Hale of Haverhill, Mass., and is now connected with the Keokuk Electric Co., in Keokuk. Mr. and Mrs. Hale left immediately following the ceremony for Haverhill, where they will visit Mr. Hale's parents.

Thursday evening at the home of C. E. Cully, 839 West North st. with Mrs. Cully and Mrs. Oids as hostesses. It is hoped there will be a full attendance of members so that plans for the winter may be made.

DR. AND MRS. C. E. COLE RETURN FROM COLORADO

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Cole returned last evening to their home on West College avenue after a two weeks' trip thru the west to Colorado. They were in the party which left the city recently in a sedan bus driven from Jacksonville by Mr. Wilson to Greeley, Colo. While in Colorado Dr. and Mrs. Cole spent some time at Estes Park and Denver.

WALTER JOHNSON WINS TROPHY IN AMERICA

Chosen Best Player in League in His Seventeenth Year With Washington Club—Pitching Average for Year Is .769.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13. (AP)—Walter Johnson pitching ace with the Washington club for 17 years, tonight was selected as the winner of the American League trophy for 1924 which crowns him as the player of greatest value to his team during the championship season just closing.

Johnson's name goes into baseball's Hall of Fame along with George Sisler, manager of the St. Louis Club, chosen the greatest player of the 1922 season, and Babe Ruth of the Yankees, who was awarded the honor in 1923. Johnson received a total of 55 points out of a possible total of 64 from the expert committee chosen to make the award.

Eddie Collins of Chicago, long time king of second basemen, ran a close second in the balloting with a total of 49 points, and was the choice of all eight members of the trophy committee as the best player on the White Sox. Johnson's name will be inscribed in the 1924 tablet on the $100,000 Baseball Memorial to be erected in East Potomac Park, Washington, and presented to the government by the American League as a memorial to the nation's greatest sport and a Hall of Fame for its greatest players. As a personal testimonial of the honor conferred on him, the winner will be presented a diploma by the American League.

The selection of the Washington pitching ace was highly gratifying to President Ban Johnson of the American League. Johnson has been with Washington since 1907, performing an interrupted service of the highest character and with the Senators making a desperate fight for the pennant, has an excellent chance of rounding out his career in a blaze of glory.

The veteran, participating in 33 games to date this season, is credited with winning twenty and losing only six, giving him an average of .769. In 244 innings, Johnson fanned 140 batters, by far the greatest number of any pitcher in the league, and confined his opponents' runs to eighty-five. In voting for the winner each member of the committee, except the chairman, selected the player on each team who in his opinion was of greatest service to his team this season, then ranked these eight best players, according to his individual estimate of their year's work, on a ballot so arranged that first place counted eight points; second place seven points; and so on down to one point for eighth place.

The highest possible point total for the winner is sixty-four points, which was reached by Babe Ruth, winner of the 1923 trophy.

SENATORS RETAIN THEIR LEAD IN RACE

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 13.—Washington continued its hold on first place in the American League by defeating Detroit in the first game of a three game series 6 to 4. Walter Johnson, pitching for Washington allowed but one run in the first six innings. The visitors made ten hits off Whitehill in eight innings and two off Holloway in the ninth.

AMERICANS OUTCLASS BRITISH IN POLO

INTERNATIONAL FIELD. WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 13.—(AP)—America overwhelmed Great Britain in the first match of the international polo series today for the international challenge by a score of 16 to 5.

Play was entirely in favor of the Americans throughout the first six chukkers when a rally on the British participated in by principally Louis Lacey, captain and back of the British team gained four goals in the last two chukkers. Lacey's quality of play was equalled only by that of Thomas Hitechock and Malcolm Stevenson Numbers 2 and 3 of the American team to share the highest handicap honors with him.

JUNIOR GOLFERS OF STATE GIVEN CHARTER

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 13.—Articles of incorporation were today issued to the Illinois Juniors' Golf association by Secretary of State Louis L. Emerson. The purpose of the organization is to interest Illinois boys in golf and to start them right with the proper conception of golf and its possibilities, the incorporators stated. The organization is said to be the first of its kind in the United States and will start with a membership of three hundred. A championship tournament is planned for the early fall. The directors are Samuel Gilbert, Joseph G. Davis and A. T. Packard, all of Chicago. The offices of the association are at 175 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago.

Yanks Roll Up Above Score Against White Sox—Ruth Gets Homer with One On, a Double, a Single and Walks Twice

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—The Yankees by slugging the offerings of three twirlers won the first game of the series from Chicago today 16 to 1, and kept pace with the leading Senators in the American League pennant race. The heavy hitting of the world's champions who made three home runs was outstanding.

Babe Ruth cracked out his 40th homer of the season with a man on base. Meusel also crashed out a four bagger with a mate on base and Ward-smashed out a four ply blow with the bases filled in the first inning. All told the Yankees gathered 17 hits which besides the circuit drives included four doubles. Ruth, in addition to cracking out his circuit drive into the right field bleachers, collected a double and single and walked twice in six trips to the plate, core:

DAVIS CUP SERIES GOES TO AMERICA

Make Clean Sweep of Five Games from Australians—Tilden and Richardson Are Again Victorious

GERMANTOWN CRICKET CLUB, Philadelphia, Sept. 13. (AP)—America's supremacy in the lawn tennis world was clearly demonstrated today when the United States team made a clean sweep of the five game series for the Davis cup against the Australians.

With three victories already in hand, thru two singles triumphs, on Thursday and a conquest in doubles yesterday, William T. Tilden II, and Vincent Richards today swept their Australian rivals off the court in the closing singles matches in straight sets.

It was the fifth successive triumph for the United States since 1920, when the American team went to Australia and brought back the international trophy. Tilden, national champion, unbeaten in Davis cup play in five years, defeated Pat O'Hara Wood in the first match today by scores of 6-2, 6-1, 6-1.

Richards, the youthful New York'er, playing in Davis cup singles this year for the first time gained a sensational victory over Gerald L. Patterson, the Australian champion, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4.

Ten thousand persons saw the final matches which were played under ideal weather conditions.

ROBINS LOSE TO REDS IN TENTH INNING

BROOKLYN, Sept. 13.—Brooklyn lost to Cincinnati today 6 to 5 and slipped behind the Giants. Grimes was hit freely thruout but was supported by timely hitting. In the tenth Walker doubled and Bressler and Pinelli singled. Ehrhardt relieved Grimes and retired the next two men, but the hits off Grimes had scored Walker with the winning run. Luque was knocked out in the eighth by a single, a double and two sacrifices. He was relieved by Mays who became the winning pitcher. Cincinnati .000 030 020 1-6 13 2 Brooklyn .000 210 020 0-5 14 3 Luque, Mays and Hargrave; Grimes, Ehrhardt and Taylor.

Baseball Veterans In Lead For Honors

CHICAGO, Sept. 14. (AP)—With the close of the major league race a trifle more than two weeks away, veterans with years of service behind them, seem certain of capturing all of the honors of the 1924 season.

In the American league, Babe Ruth is without danger of losing the batting championship, as well as the home run title. The Babe, according to latest averages today, is hitting .385, 30 points ahead of Jameson of Cleveland, his closest rival. It is startling to note, however, that Ruth made only five hits in his last five games, but two of them were homers, which increased his home run total to 44.

The veteran Eddie Collins, captain of the Chicago White Sox, shining as a major league star for 119 years, will capture the base stealing honors. He has stolen 39 to date, while Rice of Washington is next in line with 23.

The Detroit Tigers, possibly with the strain of keeping in the pennant fight removed, went in for some heavy hitting in recent games, and advanced from fifth to second place in club batting. To accomplish this, the Tigers made a gain of four points, while other teams generally were dropping. Cleveland held the lead in team batting, but slipped out of the 300 class to 295. The Tigers are hitting .293.

In individual batting, Speaker of Cleveland and Collins of the White Sox exchanged places. Speaker going into fourth place with .347, while Collins is batting fifth with .346. Falk of the White Sox is third with .351.

Other leading batters: Bressler, Detroit, .343; Cobb, Detroit, .337; Boone, Boston, .335; Rice, Washington, .334; Goslin, Washington, .334; Miller, Philadelphia, .334; Heilmann, Detroit, .333; Myatt, Cleveland, .329.

National League Rogers Hornsby, the National League's premier hitter, expects to finish the season with an average well above the .400 mark. He returned to the game after being out for ten days due to an injured back, and in a week of action, dropped four points from his high mark, set the day he was injured. Hornsby's latest average is .428. As runner-up to Hornsby, Zack Wheat of Brooklyn passed Hazen Cuyler of the Pirates by a mark of ten points. Wheat is hitting .379, with Cuyler .369. Then comes Young of New York with .347.

Max Carey, Pittsburgh veteran, added four stolen bases to his record, bringing his string up to 42. Fournier of the Dodgers continues to remain high in home run hitting, leading with 26. With a spurge of hitting again the Boston pitchers set a new single record for the season, the Giants pushed themselves into the 300 class as a hitting team, and are leading with a percentage of .302. The Cardinals are second with .292.

Other leading batters: Bressler, Cincinnati, .341; Roush, Cincinnati, .339; Fournier, Brooklyn, .334; Kelly, New York, .334; High, Brooklyn, .326; Frisch, New York, .325; Bottomley, St. Louis, .320; Blades, St. Louis, .320.

American Association Charlie Dessen, St. Paul third baseman, is the latest threat to Johnny Neun, also of St. Paul, for the batting championship of the American Association. Dessen, by passing three men, landed in second place with an average of .358, ten points behind the leading Neun, whose lead seems safe enough to carry him thru to the finish.

Hodapp of Indianapolis moved into third place with an average of .357, forcing Bunny Brief of Kansas City into fourth with .352. Neun seems certain of carrying off the base stealing honors, as he has stolen 50, while Christenbury, also of St. Paul, his closest rival, has only 27.

Elmer Smith of Louisville, with 26 homers to his credit, remains on top, followed by Reb Russell of Columbus with 24. Other leading batters: Earl Smith, Minneapolis, .350; Bell, Milwaukee, .349; Murphy, Columbus, .346; Kirke, Minneapolis, .343; Elmer Smith, Louisville, .342; Krueger, Indianapolis, .341; Russell, Columbus, .339.

Southern Association Leading with an average of .388, J. Smith of Atlanta promises to continue his heavy, consistent batting to the end and finish the season as champion of the Southern Association. Burrus of Atlanta is running second with .373, having a two point margin over Carlyle of Memphis in third place. Neuhaus of Chattanooga is fourth with .364.

Stewart of Birmingham increased his total of stolen bases to 60, while Marriott of Mobile still runs second with 43 steals. In home run hitting, J. Anderson of Chattanooga continues to show the way with 25.

Atlanta in its desperate drive to overhail Memphis for the pennant, is battling hard along with effective pitching. The Georgians are hitting .298 as a team, with Memphis seven points behind.

Other leading batters: Yaryan, Memphis, .347; Guyon, Little Rock, .344; Paschal, Atlanta, .342; D. Anderson, Chattanooga, .340; Barber, Memphis, .337;

GIANTS WIN EASY GAME FROM CARDS

Gain Half Game on Brooklyn by Taking Saturday's Contest 12 to 2—Kelly Hits Homer with Two On, and Terry Doubles Scoring Three

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The Giants went into a full game lead in the National League today by winning an easy 12 to 2 victory over St. Louis while Brooklyn lost to Cincinnati. Kelly hit a home run with two on and Terry cleared three men off the sacks with a double. Hornsby was held hitless for the second straight day. Bentley allowed only six safeties.

COACH HARMON GETS FREEPORT ATHLETES

Coach Harmon's prospects for membership on the athletic squads on the night were increased by two Saturday night with the arrival in Jacksonville of John Baker and Donald Stewart, graduates of the Freeport High school last year.

Baker, who played on the Freeport High team for four years, one year as captain of the team, has had experience both at full and half back, and has also done work with the weights in spring field events.

Stewart played as an end for four years on the Freeport football squad and was also a regular on the basketball five, serving as captain of the squad last year. In track work he is a miler.

Both of these athletes were teammates of Willard Rubendall, prior to his coming to Illinois College. Baker and Stewart were accompanied by Jacksonville by Fred Nieman, another graduate from Freeport High, who will also enter Illinois at the opening of the first semester.

CARDINALS SEEKING JACKSONVILLE GAME

If Landis' Permission Is Obtained Team Will Appear Here Either on September 30th or October 1st—Riverton Is For Today

Big stuff is ahead for the baseball fans of Jacksonville, as Manager Frank Smith announced yesterday that, with the permission of Judge Landis, the St. Louis Cardinals will appear here for a game on either September 30th or October 1st. The matter has now been put up to Landis and a reply is expected by the middle of the week.

Manager Smith states that when the proposition was made by the business manager of the Cards, Smith immediately wanted to know whether the regular team or a lot of rookies would be sent here for the game. The reply was that all of the regulars with the exception of Rogers Hornsby would positively be sent here, the star batter having arranged an after-season schedule of his own while working his way down south toward his winter home. So, if the game goes thru, and the Cards keep their word, this attraction would prove very popular. The Riverton team comes this afternoon for a tilt with the Indians, and on the basis of games won and lost this season, they have a little the edge on the locals. Smith offers a used lollipop to any fan who can correctly pronounce each and every name of the visiting team. Here they are, so you can practice on tongue twisters until time to attend the game this afternoon: Riverton—Antonaci, If; Grigiski, cf; Layden, rf; Frasco, ss; J. Grigiski, 1b; P. DODGERS ARE NOW ONE GAME IN REAR

Loss to Reds While Giants Are Winning from Cards—Detroit's Chances Now Rest on Slim Chances.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The west sacrificed itself on the altar of the east today in the American League marathon for pennant honors. The Washington Senators twisted the tail of the Tiger while the New York Yankees tamed the White Sox, in an impressive manner in the most important interseasonal games of the season.

Brooklyn, on the very threshold of the National League pinnacle yesterday stubbed its toe against an infuriated flock of Reds today and dropped back to a full game behind the Giants. At the same time the Giants had little trouble in overwhelming a weak defense set up by the Cardinals. The Pirates likewise rammed along the winning way, kicking the Braves viciously in their frantic endeavor to overtake the two leaders.

The Senators invaded the lair of the Tigers and with Walter Johnson on the mound, subdued the pennant-mad Bengals, 6 to 4. This is a series which means much to Cobb's Athletics and another mauling like today's will mean almost sure curtains for the Tigers.

The Yankees held a field day in Chicago, winning by the lopsided count of 16 to 1, Ruth batting out his 16th home run of the season in this game.

The Dodgers got a tough break against the Reds, losing the decision, 6 to 5 only after ten terrific innings had been played. The Giants easily trimmed the Cardinals 12 to 2 while the Pirates padlocked the Braves 7 to 0.

The standing of the three leaders in each league follows:

ILLINOIS DRILL TO START SOON

URBANA, Ill.—Bright and early Monday morning, September 15, Illinois field will again be alive with football players, candidates for the University of Illinois football team. Coach Bob Zuppke has ordered 60 men to report for drill. Since school does not start until September 22, the team will get in some good ticks. Two practice sessions each day for that week will be the schedule for those who would play with the Orange and Blue.

Scanning the list of names of men whom Zuppke has ordered to report, shows that 14 of the 19 Illini letter men of last season are expected back. Only three of the regulars who helped the Illini tie for the Big Ten title will be missing. They are Jim McMillen, Edward, Viv Green, center, and Ted Richards, end.

With the return of Captain Frank E. Rokusek and Stub Muhl, Richard's loss will not be as keenly felt as that of the other two. Muhl played the wing position nearly as much as did Richards and will probably succeed him. C. E. Kassal and Shields, of last year's freshman squad, are the most promising of the other candidates. Those who have seen Kassal in action liken him to Chuck Carney. Other available ends are: D. W. Follett, A. A. Gruenberg, J. A. Shaw, J. F. Winkler and A. F. Schultz.

Mush Crawford and Dick Hall, tackles, and Roy Miller, guard, are the other regular linemen who will return. Chuck Brown, a regular until he hurt his ankle in the Iowa game last fall, L. F. Stimmer, L. J. Umms and G. J. Roberts, who earned their letters, will be back to fill in the line. Bernie Shively was a member of last year's Freshman squad and looks best to fill McMillen's place. He weighs 203 pounds and is six feet three inches tall. Reeder and Wilson are promising tackles from the youngster squad. Other candidates will be: F. D. Fisher, G. N. Wickhorst, R. Margolis, R. R. McKay, E. F. Poschek and R. K. Boyd.

The Illini will have their entire backfield of last year intact. Harry Hall, quarterback, Earl Britton, fullback, and Harold Grange and Wallace McIlwain, halfbacks. Red Grange has been heaving ice in his home town, Wheaton, all summer and reports that he is in the best of condition. He will be watched by thousands—all wondering as to whether or not he can repeat his sensational record of last year.

Ray Gallivan, Bert Dancy and Benny Leonard of last year's freshman squad, are other promising backfield men. Heinie Schultz, Johnny Mauer and C. N. Jenks will also be back. Russ Daugherty, a promising freshman of 1922 who was ineligible last year, also will be in a suit.

BRITISH AMATEUR GOLFERS DEFEATED

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 13.—AP.—America's best amateur golfers today defeated British stars in the annual Walker cup series for the third successive year. Victories in six out of eight singles today combined with triumph in three out of four foursomes yesterday made the tournament end with the score: United States, 9; Great Britain, 3.

The defeated Americans today were the Amateur Champion Max R. Marston of Philadelphia, and the New York star, Jesse Sweezer, former amateur champion. Marston was defeated by Cyril Tolley, captain of the British team, and French open champion; Sweezer was defeated by the Hon. Michael Scott, who has held various Australian championships, by 7 and 5. Robert T. Jones, Jr., of Atlanta, former open champion, defeated Major Charles O. Hezzlet, four and three. Charles Evans, Jr., of Chicago, defeated W. A. Murray, 2 and 1. Francis Quimet of Boston defeated E. F. Storey 1 up.

Robert A. Gardner of Chicago, captain of the American team, defeated W. L. Hope, 3 and 2. Jesse P. Guilford of Boston, defeated T. A. Torrance two and one. Dr. O. F. Willing of Portland, Oregon, defeated Dennis H. Kyle, three and two.

C. OF C. TO MEET WITH STATE ADVISOR

A joint meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, and the Industrial Committee of that organization is called for Friday evening, at the C. of C. rooms, to meet with Mark Fenton, the newly appointed Industrial Commissioner of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Fenton comes in an advisory capacity, and will outline plans for a greater industrial development in the city. Mr. Fenton has had wide experience in industrial surveys and methods of securing new manufacturing concerns for cities. He was recently engaged by the Illinois Chamber of Commerce to advise with local organizations, in the important matter of commercial organization work. He comes to Jacksonville from Springfield, where he will meet with the Springfield Board of Directors and Industrial Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, on Thursday.

MANY ACRES SOLD HERE
YESTERDAY BY MASTER

Mortgages Purchase Nearly 1000
Acres at Foreclosure Sale Yesterday Afternoon

Nearly 1,000 acres of real estate was sold yesterday afternoon by Henry W. English, master-in-chancery at the south door of the court house. This land which is situated in the vicinity of Waverly was sold for more than $50,000 to mortgages holding mortgages on it. In exact figures the land numbers 954 acres.

The sale was the result of a foreclosure suit which was instituted against Daniel A. Sevier of Waverly. The complainants are the First State Trust and Savings bank of Springfield, Wemple State bank of Waverly, Stewart, Carson, White & Co., of St. Louis and R. C. O. Matheny of Springfield. Attorneys for the complainants are Brown, Hay & Stephens and Barber & Barber of Springfield and William T. Wilson and John J. Reeve of this city.

The property was divided into 22 tracts for sale, the tracts being sold separately and then a number were grouped together. The First State Trust and Savings bank of Springfield purchased one tract of land consisting of 450 acres for $43 per acre and another tract of 324 acres for $70 an acre. The Wemple State bank bought one farm of 60 acres for $37 an acre, another of 20 acres at $39 per acre, one of 20 acres at $41 an acre and lots in Waverly for the sum of $1,325. Eighty acres was bought by R. C. O. Matheny at $63 an acre. All of the land was purchased by the mortgages and consists mostly of rough pasture land.

Previous to the sale conducted by Master H. W. English an administrators sale was held as the result of a petition to sell real estate to pay debts in the estate of Betty Jane Stevenson. The Farmers State Bank and Trust company was the petitioner and Edwin F. Stevenson, et al., were the defendants. Merle Beddingfield officiated as auctioneer and the property was purchased by J. J. Hagan of Litchberry at a purchase price of $1,825. The lot sold is situated in George M. Chambers' addition to Jacksonville.

LARGE VOTE INTERESTS
LOCAL KIWANIS CLUB

Jacksonville Club With Others
Plan for Getting People to the Polls for Coming Election

Dr. Garm Norbury, president of the local Kiwanis club, yesterday announced the widespread plans of Kiwanis International to induce every citizen entitled to vote, to exercise the right of franchise during the coming election. Kiwanis clubs in over 1,200 communities throughout the United States will co-operate together and take active steps in sending literature to voters and urging them to register and vote.

Dr. Norbury said yesterday: "Statistics show that less than 50 percent of the voters visited the polls in the last presidential election." Kiwanis realizes that the strength of our nation depends on the interest shown by every individual citizen in casting his vote at the polls. We intend to play a leading part in bringing this realization to every voter.

Observe Constitution Week "Constitution Week," September 14-20, which has been officially observed by Kiwanis throughout the United States for the past three years, will be celebrated by the local Kiwanis club. At the club meeting held on Thursday at the Peacock Inn, plans for continuing the work of Kiwanis clubs in fostering an aggressive and intelligent citizenship will be discussed.

FUNERALS

Funeral services for Sinclair Taylor were held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the family residence in Chapin in charge of Rev. M. L. Pontius. Interment was made in Chapin cemetery.

The music was furnished by Mrs. Fred Eller, Mrs. J. F. Burnham, Frank Calloway and Fred Schultz. The floral tributes were cared for by Mrs. Harry Stewart, Miss Maude White, Miss Margaret Hogan and Miss Hallie Withee. The bearers were John, Albert, Wesley, Howard, Alpha and Geo. Anderson.

MATRIMONY

Shepherd-Centers
Ray M. Shepherd and Miss Letha M. Centers both of Jacksonville were united in marriage yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock by Justice C. O. Bayha. The ceremony was witnessed by H. G. Strawn and Lucinda Centers. The couple will reside in the city.

HUMANE SOCIETY TO MEET THIS WEEK

Several Jacksonville people plan to attend the 7th state convention of Humane societies and societies for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and Animals, which will be held in Decatur tomorrow. There will be morning, afternoon and evening sessions and men and women prominent in humane society work will take part.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS
MADE TO EXHIBITORS

Payment of premiums to County Fair exhibitors started Saturday, at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Those who have not called for their check will receive it through the mail. Mailing of checks will begin Monday and will continue until all have been sent out. A total of $3,791 will be paid in premiums alone.

In addition to this sum, $2600 was paid out in race money; $2,500 for free attractions; $700 for tents; $500 for labor; $400 for lumber; $450 for rain insurance; $350 for advertising and publicity; $589 for catalog printing; $680 for electric wiring; and $200 for incidental expenses. The total expense of the fair is in the neighborhood of $13,000, and the total income was a few hundred dollars better than the expenses.

Over $8000 dollars in gate and grand stand receipts were taken in; $2145 were received from concessions; $1115 for entrance fees and stall rent; $1800 from the State, and $100 from the County. Owing to the rainy weather, the fair will make little above the actual expenses. There is still some outstanding money still due on outstanding concessions, which must be paid in before the books can be balanced.

CITY PLAN MEETING
MONDAY EVENING

M. H. West to Be Present to Outline Proposed Industrial District

A meeting of the City Plan Commission is scheduled for Monday evening, in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, which will be of exceptional interest, not only to the members of the commission, but to the general public as well. M. H. West, City Plan expert, will be present to outline the proposed industrial district, and to submit plans for the civic center of the city; the proposed zoning ordinance, and to outline a comprehensive plan for city development to extend between a mile and three-quarters in all directions, from the present platted area. Mr. West will also consider how to arrange Railroad terminal facilities, including a Union Station, and a re-arrangement of the street car lines.

This will be the first report of the city plan expert to the plan commission, and will be received with interest by that body. Letters to the members of the commission, announcing the Monday meeting, have been sent out and a full meeting is anticipated. It is to be understood that this is not a complete city plan, but merely the first report. The complete plans will be given to the commission at the end of three months.

PRESBYTERIANS TO MEET IN PITTSBURGH

Dr. Rammelkamp Is Member of Board of Education Which Will Convene Soon for Semi-Annual Session.

Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp, Ph. D., is a member of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education which will convene for its semi-annual meeting in Pittsburgh, Pa., September 17. This Board has general oversight of the entire educational policy of the Presbyterian denomination. It consists of 40 members, of whom 12 are women. The representation is widely scattered throughout the country.

This meeting will be the second held under the direction of the new General Secretary, Dr. William Chalmer Covert, formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Chicago. The Board has recently been recognized as a result of the consolidation of five agencies of the Presbyterian denomination. Many of the policies having to do with the recognized Board will be discussed at the Pittsburgh meetings.

In connection with the meeting of the Board, several conferences of Sunday School workers and college executives and teachers will be held in Pittsburgh. Each member of the Board will also visit a Presbyterian prayer meeting on Wednesday evening in Pittsburgh or vicinity to tell the members of the church visited what the Board is doing to further Christian education under Presbyterian auspices.

Announcement will be made at this meeting of the Board that Presbyterians now have pastors in 51 state universities and schools, there lately having been added to the list Presbyterian ministers at the University of Chicago and at Palo Alto, Cal. These ministers have oversight of the Presbyterian young men and women in the state universities. They conduct Bible classes and act as student counselors in any difficulties the students may have.

DENEEN TO SPEAK AT COURT HOUSE

Ex-Governor Charles S. Deneen, who is to speak in Jacksonville next Wednesday, is coming here from Petersburg. Charles S. Black, chairman of the Morgan County Republican central committee, said yesterday that arrangements had been completed for having the meeting in the court house. The ex-governor is including Jacksonville in his down-state itinerary as he is trying to visit as many as possible of the larger cities and towns of the state.

Mr. Deneen was greeted by a large audience in his pre-primary address here, and will no doubt be heard by even a larger group next Wednesday night.

C. P. Henderson of Litchberry transacted business in the county seat Saturday.

DENEEN WELCOMED
BY METHODISTS

Former Governor Addressed Conference at Bloomington Friday
Family Long Identified With State and Methodism.

One of the speakers for the Illinois Methodist conference at Bloomington, Friday, was former Governor Charles S. Deneen, who has long been associated with the Methodist church, as has been true of members of his family. Gov. Deneen is a graduate of Lebanon College in southern Illinois, a Methodist institution, and throughout all his life his interest in Methodist affairs has been known.

Some of the facts about the Deneen family and about the excellence of the administration of the governor were mentioned by Bishop Hughes as he introduced the former governor to the big audience of Methodists, who gave him an enthusiastic reception.

The Bloomington Pantagraph used these paragraphs with reference to Mr. Deneen's appearance before the conference: "Former Governor Charles S. Deneen arrived in the room quite late, having just arrived in the city from his speaking tour of the southern part of the state. When introduced by Superintendent Blair, the latter said plainly that the governor could well be mentioned as one of the builders of Illinois education in the last 25 years, referring to his work as governor in that line. Superintendent Blair plainly said that he is for Deneen as senator—if that is politics, make the most of it."

"Former Gov. Deneen said Prof. Blair had stolen some of his thunder, for he mentioned some of the same men as builders of Illinois as he (the governor) had in mind to bring out. There was nothing left for the speaker to do but talk about his ancestors. The Deneens had lived in Illinois for 112 years. The speaker said he is the sixth generation of his family that has lived in Illinois. All were connected with the Methodist church. The speaker referred to their intimate connection with McKendree college, a pioneer Methodist institution in southern Illinois where his father and grandfather had served as teachers or trustees.

"After describing the physical greatness of Illinois, Gov. Deneen mentioned George Rogers Clark and his great work in saving Illinois to the nation. Gen. Grant was another gift of Illinois to the nation. It was the twelve counties of northern Illinois which Pope saved to the state which gave Abraham Lincoln his majority and thus insured his election as president. The governor praised Edward Coles and his fight against the slave power in Illinois, and how by the narrow margin of 1688 votes the state was saved from becoming a slave state."

Miller Weir, long a friend of the ex-governor, was in Bloomington to attend the conference sessions with him. While Mr. Weir is not a Methodist he maintains his interest in the work of all the churches.

COUNTY DEMOCRATS
MEET YESTERDAY

Plans are Made for Carrying on Campaign for November Election.

Plans for the campaign leading up to the November election were made at a meeting of the Morgan County Democratic Central Committee, both men and women held at the court house yesterday afternoon. Chairman W. A. Masters of the committee presided and Dick Reynolds was at the secretary's table.

Mrs. Alex Platt was elected chairman of the women's committee of the county for the campaign and Harold Edwards was named committeeman in the Markham precinct to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William T. Willard. Plans were also made for naming executive, finance and publicity committees. It was decided that the Democratic headquarters will be located in an up-town building.

Talks were given by John W. Clary, Judge O. P. Thompson, Gay Chandler, Charles W. Boston, C. S. Smith, Marcus Smith, Mr. Brown, Mrs. Alex Platt, Miss Dunlap and Mrs. H. W. English.

MISS OLIVE RANDLE
BRIDE OF MR. GREEN

Well Known Former Resident of Jacksonville Wed Last Evening in Chicago.

The marriage of Miss Olive Randle, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Randle of this city to Arthur H. Green of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Green of this city was performed last evening at 6 o'clock at the Palmia Street M. E. Church in Chicago, with the pastor, Dr. Lacey officiating in the simple ring ceremony. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. William J. Roehl, sister and brother-in-law of Mr. Green.

The bride is a former Jacksonville girl and attended Illinois Woman's College where she specialized in art, later continuing her studies in Chicago at the Academy of Fine Arts, while being employed at the Bradley Vrooman Paint company as a stenographer.

Mr. Green is a graduate from the Jacksonville high school where he took a prominent part in athletics. He later attended Illinois college. He now holds a responsible position as advertising manager of the Ziff Advertising Company of Chicago.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the Congress hotel and the couple left for a wedding trip to New York City and will be at home after October 15 at 801 Drexel Square, Chicago.

MURRAYVILLE MINISTER
GAINS DISTINCTION

Rev. W. C. Harms an Outstanding
Delegate at Illinois Methodist Conference.

Rev. W. C. Harms, pastor of the Methodist church at Murrayville and his brother, Rev. C. J. Harms, pastor at Kane are both in attendance at the Illinois Conference at Bloomington. The Bloomington Pantagraph has the following to say about these brothers:

"Two distinguished appearing delegates to the Illinois conference are Rev. W. C. Harms, pastor at Murrayville, and Rev. C. J. Harms, pastor at Kane. They are twin brothers, and if this fact was not enough to gain their distinction, their giant build and height would be sufficient. Rev. W. C. Harms weighs 210 pounds and standing 6 feet, 2 inches in height, towers above his fellow pastors and is also always a conspicuous figure in any group. The latter was formerly in the Southern Illinois conference, being transferred to the Illinois conference ten years ago. At the time he was associated with his brother in the southern district they were alone in the distinction of being twin clergymen in that territory.

Rev. W. C. Harms was ordained by Bishop Goodsell at Vandalia in 1906. A sermon preached by Bishop Andrew at Mount Carmel twenty-five years ago was perhaps the influence which, more than any other, guided him to the path of the ministry. The talk made by Bishop Goodsell at the time of his ordination was recalled yesterday by Rev. Mr. Harms as being an outstanding effort in his experience. It made a powerful impression upon him and has always been an inspiration to him in his pulpit career. It was an appeal for spiritual uplift that was irresistible, gripping, unanswerable."

HERE FROM COLORADO

Mr. and Mrs. William Cafky and son Morris of Florence, Colo., are guests at the home of Miss Helen Cafky on South Prairie street. Mrs. Cafky and son have spent the summer months in New York and Mr. Cafky has been in the east for several weeks past.

As a citizen of Colorado Mr. Cafky has for a number of years been identified with the political affairs of that state. He said yesterday that he thought there was no doubt but that Colorado will be found safely in the Coolidge column in the next campaign. While there is considerable factionalism in the western state, the several factions are very well united so far as Coolidge is concerned.

FALL PLOWING IS NO HARDER THAN SPRING IF TOOLS ARE SHARP

Heavier Clay Soils are Hard- est to Handle in Prop- er Way

URBANA, Ill., Sept. 14. (AP)—Fall plowing, when properly done is no harder on horses or tractors and a no more irksome task than the same job would be in the spring, according to A. L. Young, of the farm mechanics department at the College of Agriculture University of Illinois. This statement was made in response to the question, "It is wise to put off plowing until spring in the hope that the ground will plow easier than it will in the fall?" "Unfortunately, it is the heavier clay soils, the kind that benefit most by fall plowing, that are hardest to plow when they are packed and dry," Mr. Young said. "However, by properly using the right kind of plow and keeping it in good condition, it may be possible to plow such soils, unless they are extremely dry, with little more effect in the fall than in the spring."

Just received three hundred little girls and children's new fall hats, up to $3 values, on sale $1.25 to $1.98. The Emporium.

"It should be remembered that horses and tractors usually will have a better footing when the plowing is done in the fall than they would when it is done in the spring and this may effect to a marked degree the increase in plow draft."

"In either spring or fall plowing, much can be done to cut down the draft of the implement by getting rid of side drafts which always means waster effort. In case a horse plow is used, the horse probably will have to be hitched in tandem to eliminate side draft. If the plowing is being done in early fall or late summer this method of hitching them will make it possible for the horses to do more work on warm days.

"In some soils, especially fairly heavy ones, a dull plow share may add a whole lot to the draft of the plow and for this reason, the share should be kept sharpened. "Unless the ground is being prepared for fall seeding, there is no need to pulverize the soil to any great extent. A general purpose or even a sod bottom plow that will turn the furrow slice slowly and not break it up to a great deal should be used."

"All that is necessary is to do a good job of covering trash. In some respect is beneficial to have plowed ground rough during winter. Letting the team or tractor travel rather slowly will help reduce the amount of pulverization that takes place."

Public Health Bulletin

Published Weekly By Morgan County Health Dept.

Vol. 1. September 14, 1924 Number 23.

DR. THOMAS A. MANN, Health Officer

Skin Diseases in Schools

There are several skin diseases which on account of being communicable are of special interest in connection with the schools. Recently the Health Officer has been called to investigate skin diseases in the country schools.

The following skin diseases are the most common:

Scabies (itch)

Pediculosis Capitis (Head Lice)

Ringworm

Favus

Impetigo

It is advisable that all parents and teachers familiarize themselves with the nature of these diseases in order that school attendance will be interfered with as little as possible.

Scabies (Itch). This disease is due to a tiny organism called the itch mite. It causes irritation of the skin and scratching especially at night. The disease is readily spread by towels, infected clothing, bedding etc. For this reason all clothing, bedding, etc., should be thoroughly boiled to avoid reinfection or infection of others. Treatment depends upon two things. First a thorough scrubbing of the affected parts with a scrubbing brush and soap; and second the application of some parasiticide ointment. Sulphur ointment is efficacious provided the scrubbing is properly done.

With thorough boiling of the clothing and bedding, thorough scrubbing of the affected parts, and the application of sulphur ointment the worst cases of scabies will generally respond in a week or ten days.

Pediculosis Capitis (Head Lice) are extremely common among children and are communicated by direct contact, or by wearing each others hats or hanging them on each others pegs, or from combs and brushes. Brushes or combs should always be individual.

Head lice are best treated by killing the living parasites with kerosene or crude petroleum; and then getting rid of the nits. Children with pediculosis should be excluded from school until their heads are clean.

Ringworm and Favus are somewhat similar. Ringworm is very common. Favus is not a common disease in America, but does exist and is now present in Morgan County. Favus generally attacks the head but can be on any part of the body. In this disease quite abundant crusts of a yellowish color are present, when the process is active. In Favus the loss of hair is permanent. These diseases should be treated by a physician. Favus is very chronic and is very resistant to treatment. The X-ray is said to be efficacious.

Impetigo. Impetigo is a disease characterized by pustules which appear on the face, neck and hands, sometimes on the body, or scalp. The disease is communicable and spreads by scratching and the use of the common towel. The pustules soon form large superficial scabs. Cleanliness and an antiseptic ointment are effective in the treatment of impetigo.

Cats and Animals As Pets

Ringworm and Favus are sometimes contracted from the lower animals, such as cats, dogs, rabbits and horses. It is said that animal infections are more severe. As a matter of precaution domestic pets such as dogs, cats and rabbits should always be carefully examined before being brought to the home. Whenever pets show signs of sickness it is advisable to take them away from contact with children.

POISON MUSHROOMS

RESEMBLE GREATLY

EDIBLE VARIETIES

No Set Rule Can be Laid

Down to Make Proper

Distinction

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Poisonous mushrooms found in Illinois cannot be distinguished from edible varieties by any standard characteristic, according to Dr. A. R. Crook, curator of the State Natural History Museum.

"Only by learning the characteristics of each of the poisonous specimens can a person be sure of the type of the growth," Dr. Crook said. "There are 200 varieties of mushrooms in the state and 20 are poisonous. Of the remainder, 100 kinds are pleasing to the taste and are edible. The others are harmless when used as food, but are not particularly palatable."

"The poisonous varieties often resemble the palatable mushrooms and because of this resemblance, mushroom poisoning is not unknown. Contrary to popular belief, no set rule can be laid down

CHINESE ANXIOUS TO

ENTER PHILIPPINES

MANILA. (AP)—The smuggling of Chinese from British North Borneo into the Philippine Islands has increased largely in recent months and has become a profitable traffic, according to officials of the customs service. Within the last week nearly 50 Chinese have been arrested in Zamboanga on charges of being in the country unlawfully and will be deported either to Borneo or Hongkong. They are brought from the coast of Borneo in native boats and landed on the various islands of the Sulu group only a few miles from the British possession. After reaching Philippine territory they easily work their way into the more populous sections, and many of them are never caught.

The customs authorities have ordered all available patrol boats to southern waters for the purpose of beginning a vigorous campaign against this traffic in Chinese as well as against the opium traffic.

LIVESTOCK WINNERS AT STATE FAIR WILL BE SHOWN IN PARADE

All Classes Will Pass in Front of Grand Stand on Friday

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Premium stock of every kind, winners of the 137,000 in prize money, will be paraded in front of the grand stand at the Illinois state fair, Friday, September 19. W. W. Lindley, fair manager, announced today. Beef and dairy cattle, horses, mules, sheep and goats, will parade.

The parade will start on the track in front of the grand stand at 12:30 p. m. and will be the feature of the fair, Mr. Lindley said.

Premium money will be distributed as follows: Beef cattle, $18,000; dairy cattle, $9,500; heavy horses, $10,000; light horses, $13,500; jacks and mules, $2,500; speed horses, $30,000; sheep and goats, $6,000; swine, $8,000; poultry and rabbits, $5,000; farm products, $4,000; horticulture and floriculture, $5,000; educational exhibits, $44,000; culinary, $1,100; junior department, $2,900; Breeders' Association special prizes, $10,000.

Cattle, heavy horses and mules will be shown in the coliseum in the mornings and light horses will be shown in the afternoons, beginning Monday and continuing thru Thursday.

The horse show for saddle horses will be held every night thru Friday. Premiums will be offered for three and five-gaited horses, hunters and jumpers and roadsters. Premiums will be offered for ponies in harness and under saddle. Ponies under saddle will be ridden by children, Mr. Lindley said.

Among the other entertainment features at the fair this year will be a fireworks display depicting Ancient Egypt, a musical revue and a number of new shows in Happy Hollow, the midway, Mr. Lindley said. Cervone's Band will play at the grand stand every night.

Among the other bands engaged for the fair this year are the Watch Factory band of Springfield, which will play Sunday afternoon, September 14, and the band from the Jacksonville State school for the deaf and dumb. These boys of the institution have been drilled by Bandmaster Fred G. Fancher and it is said have reached a point of unusual efficiency.

Books and Those Who Write Them

Idyllic Truth

TRUTH. By Geo. Sterling. Chicago: The Bookfellow. 1923. $3.75.

Reviewed by HAZEL DELL

The ability to write convincingly in the allegorical manner is an art possessed by few. Especially difficult is it to cast allegory into poetic form, for, when the characters are mere abstractions whose actions and speeches are intended to teach the reader a lesson, there is danger that the poem will descend into the realm of flatly didactic moralizing. The author's interest will be centered on the moral rather than on the artistic problems of construction. As a result, the value of the poem will be solely in the content.

Since the appeal of poetry should be equally divided between the beauty of sound and the sublimity of thought, a poem in which either of these qualities is lacking loses in power. A poet should have a message for the world, but when he becomes engrossed in that feature to the detriment of his manner of expression his poem becomes a lifeless thing.

George Sterling has admirably avoided this danger in his poetic drama, "Truth." The dramatic form, shorn as it is of all excess description and comment, makes the message all the more direct.

The theme is based upon the story of the age-old search after truth. The setting is not definite—the reader has the impression that the scene is laid in ancient times in a far distant city, but the characters display such universal traits that he feels a certain intimate acquaintance with the situation and with the persons of the play.

Ullian, the dreamer, goes in search of Truth, and finds her in the mountain fastnesses. She speaks to him, but refuses to converse with the inhabitants of the city where Ullian takes her. He labors under the delusion that all will fall down before her and worship her as he had done, never for a moment thinking that they would see only the physical charm of the beautiful, naked woman, without giving a thought to her soul. But that is what happens: The narrowly moral and self-righteous group are shocked, scandalized, and angered at what they call her brazen actions.

Each person in the city reveals his true character in his attitude toward the girl. Her deep, silent gaze penetrates into the depths of her critics' souls, and when the townspeople are brought face to face with themselves, the evil in their hearts is apparent. In their utter shame and fear they flee from her. No one but Ullian can endure her gaze.

In its fury the mob condemns both Truth and Ullian to death. The final speech of Ullian, when the two are separated, indicates his penetrating judgment of the girl.

ARKONIAN (A soldier): And a thing end is this! A sorry close! Ullian: I am unworthy of her. It may well be that I have not wrought well.

Ever strange voices call me and I go On roads of dreams austere and desolate.

But she shall live, haunting a peaceful world, And all a star's irradiance in her soul. She is immortal.

But the judgment of a mere dreamer is incapable of convincing a determined mob, so both Truth and Ullian meet death.

Truth, however, possesses eternal life and returns to the city the next day in a most dramatic manner. The city is in danger of destruction by neighboring enemies. The fickle mob now regards her appearance as miraculous and of good omen, and offers its allegiance. Truth overthrows the false god who has failed them in this emergency, but the city was too weak and had scorned her demands too long to withstand the attack.

The drama closes with a powerful idyllic scene on the mountain-side across the river from the city. Egon, a popular poet, and his sweetheart are exchanging vows of eternal love which are spoken in most poetic language. At the very climax of the scene, Truth, unharmed when the city fell, appears before Egon and mutely asks him to follow her. He refuses because he prefers the security of present job to the vicarious pleasure he would obtain from the difficult journey with her. He realizes that those who follow her travel a lonely road, and he is not strong enough to endure.

The drama may be considered in the light of an arraignment of society, provided the reader desires to wrest that interpretation from it. It is more satisfying, however, and more dramatic, if it is read as a poetical production, full of music and color. The great principle embodied in the poem—that truth is beautiful and eternal, and that those who follow her find ultimate peace and happiness—grows more arresting in the moments of reflection that follow the reading.

Thanks to the efforts of his grandson, the third volume of Pasteur's works, which deals with experiments on vinegar and wine, has just appeared.

NOTES DECLINE IN COLYUMIST'S ART

Editor Says the Daily Humorist Has Lost His Sparkle and Inspiration.

Clifford Smyth, editor of the International Book Review, declares in his September issue that the newspaper "colyumist" has passed into the serene and yellow leaf. Hear him:

"When Eugene Field launched his 'Shrubs and Flats' in the Chicago Daily News in the early 'eighties, he became the father of the present-day and quite multitudinous 'colyumist.' Lafcadio Hearn, it is true, had furnished a sort of literary potpourri to the New Orleans Picayune. Mark Twain had poured a rich medley of humor and satire into the columns of more than one California paper.

"But the genuine 'colyum' the daily stint of humor, clever comment, pathos, verse, all served up in brief paragraphs and compressed within the inexorable limits of the newspaper column-rule, was a distinctively Fieldian invention. And 'it took,' as usually happens with genuine inventions conceived along the line of some popular need and ministering either to our love of amusement or to our desire for information.

"Like most good things, also, the 'colyum' thus born of Field's fertile and brilliant genius ran the gamut of many changes through many alien hands, until at the very zenith of its popularity it seems perilously near being done to death. A goodly number of Field's successors, indeed, have proved themselves worthy to carry on the arduous task he set himself. Two volumes recently published, 'The East Window' and 'The So-Called Human Race,' give one a delightful idea of the unflagging ease and brilliancy with which the late Bert Leston Taylor conducted his 'colyum' in the Chicago Tribune.

"We have daily reminders, also, of the extraordinary versatility, maintained at a high level, to be found in the work of those colyumists—there are more than one—who have proved themselves worthy successors of 'B. L. T.' Unfortunately, there are others of a quite different caliber who are very much in evidence, who walk ostensibly under the Field banner, but whose work has lost completely 'Gone's' irresistible sparkle and inspiration.

"This deterioration in the art of the colyumist was inevitable. As Field conceived it, his daily column was a form of literary art, and that of a very high order. It was creative journalism, for which no adamant rule could be given, and needing the creative genius for its successful development. Lacking this rare essential, the harassed colyumist of today, with his daily stint clamoring for fulfillment, has adopted the artificially clever expedient of always supporting the worse for the better reason."

"When even this fails of its thrill, recourse is had to long autobiographical details of the writer's daily experiences that for sheer dead-level dullness are quite incomparable. Losing the pristine sincerity and spontaneity of the well-merited vogue, the typical colyum has drifted into a sort of artificial decadence—an advocacy of the devil when that seems the clever, unexpected thing to do—a dreary egotism that must ultimately bring about its own extinction. After all, how can one be spontaneously witty, genuinely clever, all day and every day, without resorting finally to expedients that make spontaneity impossible?"

Frederick Roy Martin, general manager of the Associated Press, has been elected a member of the board of directors of D. Appleton and Company.

The death of Joseph Conrad adds interest to the recent placing in sale of the suppressed preface "The Nigger of the Narcissus." This was privately printed in 1879 and is said to be extremely rare.

A single copy of Blake's "Milton," 1804, in the Hoe sale brought $9,000, a record for the work.

Criminal Complexes

THE THREE HOSTAGES. By John Buchan. Boston: Houghton Mifflin Co. 1924. $2.00.

Reviewed by R. V. SHOEMAKER

The Perfect Criminal has received unpleasant publicity lately, but the lover of detective stories will continue uninterruptedly in desiring crimes dished up with an intellectual flavor, provided the caviar is served with a side dish of crime-prevention or even deeper subtlety and effect.

In this intriguing story the underworld and the hinterland salute each other with the utmost eclectic eclect; the use of hypnotism by the master-criminal only being outdone by the utilization of the subconscious and the will by the gentleman whom honor calls to his detection.

The book is a sequel to "The Thirty-Nine Steps," "Greenmantle," and "Mr. Standfast" and Mr. Richard Hannay is called forth from the ease of estated retirement to trail the last scent of an international league of crime, whose instinct for self-protection has led to their capturing a young man, a young woman, and a boy of representative families, as hostages against their own possible capture.

We are not kept in the dark long as to the master criminal, not even as long as the author expects us to be—for Hannay gets his subconscious mind and that of a friend working on the correspondence between some doggerel mailed by the criminal and a sentence let drop by his friend, and by contiguity associate a hymn tune, an accidentally broken pipe-bowl, and a conversation with a member of Parliament, concerning none of which his friend can develop a thoroughly conscious recollection.

The trail leads to the M. P., and the detective, less wise than the reader, almost goes to him for help. He is a popular man, with both sexes, a sportsman, a political leader, and a writer of melancholy verse. But he combs his hair to disguise the shape of his head, and tries his hand at hypnotism on Hannay, very nearly succeeding even with that wary subject.

Hannay, put on his guard by these clues, pretends to come under the influence of the man, and so, with the aid of his wife and several obliging friends, he uncovers the clue after clue. One of his friends is a super-hypnotist, and accomplishes even more than Hannay himself. Thrills of an airplane venture, a chase in the snows of Norway, and of a needlessly complex house in a deserted quarter of London, together with vivid pictures of the pitiful characters of the hypnotized hostages, keep the interest tense.

The character of the villain, Dominick Medina, is built of the best recognized elements of intellectual abnormality. The "radical" element is furnished by his Sinn Féin ancestry, and to this are added the influence of the black arts of the East and the association of a powerful criminal interests in the West.

His poetry seems too genuine to indicate conceit, but it only expresses his negative, pessimistic side. When he takes the affirmative, in his supposed hypnotic control over Hannay, he becomes self-satisfied to an almost stupid degree. A rather true character, though probably a rare one, would be the natural verdict after a comparison with our own Chicago boy-killers.

As a seeming anti-climax after the capture of the criminals and the winning of freedom by bargain on the part of their master, comes a change of scene that sounds like starting a new book. But within a few pages we find Hannay and Medina out into the open with his threatened revenge, and a deer-hunt becomes a man-hunt which lasts from noon till night.

The book brings the best traditions of Poe stories down to the present day of sophisticated "science" and puts in evidence a style that is thoughtful without affectation or mannerisms. And if there are flaws in the probability and in the labyrinthine pattern, who cares so much as long as the whole is real and absorbing?

LEWISOHN PRAISES AMERICAN CLASSICS

Ludwig Lewisohn, author of "Upstream," a book that slashed into almost everything American, has a good word to say for the American literary classics—Emerson, Thoreau, Whitman, Mark Twain. In his latest book, "The Creative Life," he urges American writers to turn again to these constructive rebels of other days. The book is the first of a series of essays of this volume. Richard Le Gallienne writes in the International Book Review for September:

"Mr. Lewisohn's significance as a social philosopher and his usefulness to his fellow-Americans consists in his pointing out to them the creative, progressive thought that lies unapplied in the dynamic wisdom of their own 'classical' philosophers. To give serious heed, to her own great men is all that America needs to do. America needs no imported prophets, all she has to do is to patronize her own home industries of the mind."

TO AN ANCIENT COIN

Though minted in the so-called Golden Age,
Your Golden Age is this, wherein your gloss
Connotes no sordid gauge of gain or loss,
No standard metaphor of wealth or wage.
Days were when you enjoyed adventuring
From hand to hand in Attic sport and trade;
But Time has spared you only to degrade—
A rare and coveted, but useless thing.

The poor who earned you, and the rich who kept
Or squandered piles of you in lavish joy
A thousand times, are gone—the Age is dead;
And in some secret crypt for long has slept
The tyrant who debased you, but whose head
Today exalts the worth of your alloy.

ARTHUR MACHEN IN REMINISCENT BOOK

English Author Relates Personal Experiences in "The London Adventure."

"Let us remember that the most amazing things are latent in the commonest, everyday, ordinary circumstances. These amazing things are the only realities that matter. Strangeness which is the essence of beauty is also the essence of truth, and the essence of life." Such is the philosophy of so-called "commonplace things" with which Arthur Machen tackles his little ramble, "The London Adventure," published in this country by Alfred A. Knopf.

But there is as much autobiography of Machen in and between the lines as there are sidelights of London. Also, there are close-up views of Machen's self struggle during his bitter experience as a British journalist. Machen digs up an aged notebook and with it throws added light upon himself, and upon people and things encountered. This is, in a sense, a companion volume to "Far Off Things" and "Things Near and Far," but is more of a ramble in reminiscence.

To one who may not have read Machen before picking up this little volume, there may come a shock of getting too well acquainted upon first introduction. For some of Machen's most sensitive moments are here revealed; and this same sensitivity and striving for beauty is shown in his writing style.

EDITOR HAS PRAISE FOR JOURNAL PAGE

"I was much pleased by the appearance of my review of 'Highwaymen' as you printed it, and I like your page in general very much. I am glad to know that it is to be continued under the direction of Mr. Kearns."

These are the words of Professor John T. Frederick of the University of Iowa, who is nationally known as editor of The Midland. This magazine, in the words of Edward J. O'Brien, "has made more discoveries and focused them more clearly than any other periodical." "The Midland," he continues, "has made literary history, and I regard it as a perfect crystallization of the middle western spirit in literature today."

Through Spanish reviews of "The Passion Flower" and "The Penitent," Mrs. Edna Worthley Underwood has received an invitation to visit Madrid next spring.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Beginning with the next issue, this book page, which for the past thirteen weeks has been edited by Wayne Gard, will be conducted by John Kearns.

The retiring editor takes this occasion to thank those who have contributed to the success of the department, particularly those who have written the reviews. He hopes that all of these will give to Mr. Kearns the same support which he has enjoyed.

The succeeding editor requests the continued cooperation of contributors and readers in carrying on the Saturday page. Regarding certain slight changes in policy and form which are to be made, he will reserve his comment until the next issue.

Character Tests

TWELVE TESTS OF CHARACTER. By Harry Emerson Fosdick. New York: George H. Doran Company. 1923. $1.50.

Reviewed by MYRON L. PONTIUS

A new book by Dr. Fosdick is always welcomed by the thinking Christian. Dr. Fosdick is known as a professor in one of our largest universities and as a pastor in one of the largest churches in New York City. He is a thinker, a real philosopher, a Christian gentleman, a Twentieth Century Man. His mind is dynamic. He is thinking age-long thoughts in the light of modern invention, research, achievement, and progress.

As one reads this book, with its twelve character studies, he wishes that each critic of Dr. Fosdick might read the publication twice. If you are a harsh critic of Dr. Fosdick, will you answer these questions: "Have you read, thoroughly, half a dozen books by this man whom you criticize? Have you read even one of his books?" Surely this is genuine Christian fairness. Is your criticism based upon something you have read concerning the pronouncements of this man? Honor bright, isn't it better and fairer to investigate before you condemn? Condemnation without investigation is a foolish program.

In this book, which is not the best of Dr. Fosdick's volumes, and which is a compilation of essays written for the Ladies' Home Journal, the author has one fundamental purpose. It is to make the reader feel that he is living in the most peculiar and the most wonderful age in all human history. Responsibility, privilege, duty, opportunity, and service, are words the author stresses.

The man who lives upon the lower levels in this wonderful age, without utilizing ability and privilege, is little better than a criminal, according to Dr. Fosdick. Life is action inspired by love and expressed in service. How small the individual is when he throws away his sacred privileges by living in his selfish tub in which, like Diogenes, he contentedly passes away his lazy life.

Dr. Fosdick believes that the only thing in this world that is worth while is man, and that the only thing in man that is worth while is character. He portrays the idler, the social parasite, the libertine, the chronic pleasure seeker, as the worst of earth's beings.

The climax in this book is reached in the chapter on "The Privilege of Living." He dwells upon the suggestion that happiness is the normal condition of every man, woman, and child in the world. He emphasizes the fact that there is no real happiness except in the discharge of duty. Happiness is the normal outbursting of a life that is filled with praise for God and service for man. "Men can be roughly divided into three classes: those who dislike duty and refuse to do it; those who dislike it and drag themselves to it with reluctant consent; those who do their duty and thoroughly enjoy it."

The author goes beyond duty to self-denial. He makes clear the fact that there is no real manhood generated, no real happiness forthcoming, unless the life is one of self denial. Whatever your vocation may be, if you do not consider the performance of your daily duty a pleasure and privilege, then it is well to begin a self-examination through the process of introspection.

In this book Dr. Fosdick teaches the parent. He believes the child problem is a home problem. To govern by fear all the parent needs is indignation and vehemence. He tells us that "some parents bring their children up on thunder and lightning, but thunder and lightning never made anything grow. Rain and sunshine and dew cause growth—quiet penetrating forces that develop life. And while thunder and lightning are occasionally useful to clear the air, it is amazing with how little of them a family can get along if only there is enough of the vitality that causes growth."

Each parent should read this book. Then the parent would do well to hand the book to the boy or girl in the home. The author makes it clear that our age needs parents, home, love, wholesome work, unselfish living, more than it needs material prosperity and progress. The greatest day in the life of a man or institution is when the man or institution turns the street corner and runs into a new idea that may be shaped and fashioned into a useful life or program.

In "Twelve Tests of Character" you will find a message that will produce in young and old a satisfying stirring of the imagination and the emotions, a quickening of the best within one as thoughts and desires are lifted to higher levels.

Throughout the book Dr. Fosdick gives evidence of his abiding faith in Jesus the Christ. The reader is frequently forced to direct his thought to the unique and powerful influence of the man of Galilee. "Once our civilization turned the corner of a street and ran into Jesus of Nazareth. It never has been the same world since. Something happened at that meeting from which humanity never will be able to escape, and never ought to wish to escape."

this year, it is especially important that local students register the first day whether freshmen or older students.

Thomas S. Correll, who has served for about a year as financial secretary of Illinois college, resigned his position some time ago, and Miss Grace Van Houten, the assistant secretary, has been promoted to the position of financial secretary.

Professor Harve Clemens, the new head of the violin department of the Conservatory, arrived in the city Thursday evening. He will appear in his first concert in Jacksonville on the evening of Sept. 26th. Dr. Kraupner and Professor Hedge will also take part in the program. The concert will be given in the High school auditorium. Admission is free and the public is invited.

Miss Clemens, sister of Professor Clemens, accompanied him to Jacksonville, and will register in the library department of the college. Mrs. Harold Stevens of Ft. Meyer, Florida, was a visitor on the campus during the past week. She was formerly Miss Ella Crawford of the class of 1909.

Dean and Mrs. G. H. Scott will be at home to all non-resident students of the college Sunday afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock. A cordial welcome is extended to all out of town students.

RETURNS FROM ABROAD

Miss Beatrice Teague, head of the department of Romance Languages at the Illinois Woman's College, has returned to Jacksonville, after spending the summer in Europe, where she studied at the Grenoble University, in Grenoble, France, and toured the European countries. Miss Teague was accompanied on her European trip by Miss Audrey King, graduate of the class of '24 of the Woman's College. Miss King will enter Illinois University this fall to do post-graduate work, specializing in French.

The Food that Builds Brain and Brawn

Baker's bread is the great source of everyday nutrition for young and old, and the food that makes all other foods available. In our plant we prepare a rich, nutritious loaf from the finest flours, made up with the best years, fats, malt, sugar, salt and milk, and hold it at an unvarying standard of high quality, day after day. It pays to order our bread by name—to use it largely—to enjoy its flavor and sweetness—and to remember that it gives the highest food value that money can buy among all the foods of the marketplace.

SPIETH STUDIO MOVES TO NEW HOME NEXT WEEK

Fine New Building Is Completed and Equipped and Tomorrow Will Be Devoted to Showing Public Through Studio.

The Spieth Studio of Jacksonville, which for fifteen years has served the photographic needs of this community and surrounding towns, will on Monday, Sept. 15, 1924, open for business in its new home at No. 15 West Side Square. The handsome, artistic and completely equipped building will be formally opened to visitors from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m., and Mr. Spieth and his assistants will be pleased to receive callers and show them through the studio. The old location of the Spieth Studio has been at 17½ West Side Square, just a door south of the new building.

Construction of the fine new establishment and its opening Monday fulfills an ambition of long standing on the part of Otto Spieth, owner and proprietor of the business. Some years ago he purchased a building on East State street with a view of later converting it into a modern studio. He eventually disposed of this property and acquired the three story building on the west side of the square which was formerly occupied by the A. Wehl store. The old structure was torn down, and a new brick building of three stories erected in its place.

On the first floor of the studio is the reception room, show room and dressing rooms. The operating room is on the mezzanine floor, half of the north wall of this room being of glass. The finishing rooms are conveniently located. A large stock of photograph frames will be carried in the new establishment.

Special attention has been given the arrangement and equipment of the operating room, which is naturally the most important part of a studio. The room affords twenty different effects without the use of backgrounds. It is beautifully finished and photographs may be taken in any part or corner. There is a mantel and fire-place, a stairway and other features that add to the efficiency of the studio in providing variation of effects. A property room is located just south of the operating room.

One of the numerous fine pieces of equipment in the operating room is a Hollywood Hi-Lite, the kind used in film studios. There are other artificial lighting arrangements, so that photographs may be taken at night.

The building throughout is attractively decorated. The woodwork and floors is birch with walnut finish. This wood came from the Spieth farm in Wisconsin, having been shipped here four years ago for the purpose to which it has been put.

Mr. Spieth is naturally proud of his new studio, and it will be a pleasure to his friends to visit the interesting plant. John Murray, Mr. Spieth's assistant, and Miss Helen Sweeney, who has been with the studio this summer, will assist in showing visitors the place next week.

Mr. Spieth entered the photographic business here fifteen years ago. There are few professional men who are as deeply engrossed with their work. He strives to give his patrons service of the most satisfactory kind, and will be even better prepared to do this in his new studio.

The proprietor of the new studio is a former secretary of the Photographers' Association of Illinois and is a life member of the Photographic Association of America. He is an annual exhibitor at the International convention.

A clear Complexion

comes with Rich Red Blood cells

DOES YOUR MIRROR reveal a soft, clear, ruddy skin, free from imperfections, that is such a joy to every woman? Or are you embarrassed with blemishes, pimples, little eruptions, acne, blackheads and other unsightly and disfiguring handicaps?

Your skin is in reality your passport, and if your mirror reveals a blemished, unsightly complexion, it is time to begin at once to correct this annoying condition. When the blood becomes infected with humors or impurities, the circulation cannot supply rich nutrition to the skin, but instead it deposits the acid impurities with which it is contaminated into the sensitive fibres and tissues. This causes irritation or inflammation which splits or breaks the outer cuticle, while the tissues beneath weep, become inflamed, break out into pimples, and cause other unsightly irritations.

Just as long as the blood remains pure, the skin will be free from eruptions; but when the blood becomes affected with humors, its nourishing and healthful properties are lost, and its humor-laden condition causes inflammation of the delicate tissues and fibres of the pores and glands. You have but to realize the importance of pure, rich blood in preserving the health, and that the source of all skin disorders is in the blood. Remove the cause, which is not in the skin itself, and therefore cannot be reached by a treatment that is strictly local, but is deep down in the blood supply.

Because S.S.S. does build red blood-cells, it clears the system and makes those so-called skin disorders impossible to exist. S.S.S. contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. It is also a remarkable builder of firm flesh which is also important to beauty. It will fill out your hollow cheeks, put the "ruby" of health in your cheeks and the sparkle in your eyes. Since 1826 S.S.S. has been beautifying complexions and giving women physical charm. That is why S.S.S. is accepted as the greatest of all blood cleansers and body builders. S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores. The larger size bottle comes affected with S.S.S. today. Its marvelous results will amaze you!

RED CROSS HOLDS REGIONAL MEETING

Many Attended Conference Held at Grace M. E. Church Saturday Morning—Representative From Central Office in Chicago are Speakers.

A regional conference of the Red Cross was held at Grace M.

E. church Saturday beginning at 10 a. m. Owing to the fact that it was Saturday, not as many delegates from adjoining counties were present as was hoped would be the case. However, a goodly number of Jacksonville people turned out to the fried chicken luncheon, served by the Aid society of Grace M. E. church at 12 o'clock.

During the luncheon talks were given by the representatives from the central division office in Chicago, and out of town delegates David F. Tilley, director of war service of the central division office, said that a series of regional conferences has been arranged thruout the state which are being held in the larger centers. Five conferences in southern Illinois were conducted the past week, before coming to Jacksonville, and five others in the northern part of the state will be held next week.

The purpose of these conferences is to stimulate interest in Red Cross activities. Mr. Tilley said that about a million and half was spent by the National Red Cross in assistance rendered to the disabled ex-service men in hospitals all over the United States, in helping with compensation claims and other matters pertaining to their government service.

He also said that over $2,000,000 was spent by the chapters of Red Cross thruout the country in rendering services to the disabled ex-service men in their own communities.

Mr. Tilley read President Coolidge's letter on the Red Cross in which the president states:

"The American Red Cross has been tested in war and the aftermath of war; in fire, flood and famine, and in the emergencies of peace. It has been proved an indispensable instrument for the alleviation of suffering and the betterment of human life in our own and other lands."

Owing to the passage of the Reed-Johnson law of June 7, 1924 about 600,000 ex-service men whose claims for compensation and medical care were disallowed under the old law would be allowed under the present law. The vast majority of disallowed cases were either those of tuberculosis or the nervous and mental cases.

Under the old law their disabilities had to be shown to have developed within three years after discharge from service. The present law requires application to be made before Jan. 1, 1925. This new legislation has thus increased the duties of the Red Cross in fulfilling its obligations to the disabled ex-service men.

William B. Carroll, chief of co-operation, U. S. Veterans' bureau, Peoria, Ill., also a legionnaire, spoke of the invaluable services the Red Cross was able to render the veterans' bureau, where they maintained paid secretaries. This was especially true in dealing with men whose opportunities for securing an education had been limited. But in all cases the services of a trained person, familiar with the laws governing cases, is invaluable in the assistance he could give not only to the veterans' bureau but to the disabled man as well.

Miss Elsa Wichien, assistant director of nursing service central division, spoke of the health work the organization was undertaking. She specially emphasized that the Red Cross in this community should co-operate and lend every assistance by way of moral support to the splendid program under way by the county health department.

She also spoke of the value of short courses of instruction that might be given under the auspices of the Red Cross in home hygiene and care of the sick. These courses are for the primary purpose of making those who take them more intelligent in the care of the members of their own families who are ill. They also teach people how to prevent a contagious disease from affecting an entire family.

Miss Manger, nursing field representative of Illinois, spoke of the work of the junior Red Cross. She emphasized the value of international correspondence between American children and children of foreign countries. Also the value of sending Christmas boxes to children overseas, many of whom have no other Christmas except this box from an American child. She closed by saying that Mr. Hughes, secretary of state, said that the friendly feeling entertained by a number of European countries had been fostered by the American Junior Red Cross.

Miss M. Alice Hill, executive secretary of Sangamon county Chapter of Red Cross, told how an enterprising business man in Springfield put over a successful roll call in 1923, also of assistance rendered to men from Sangamon county who are patients in Jacksonville State hospital, by the local Red Cross office in Jacksonville.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Meeting of Farm Loan Directors

The directors of the Morgan County National Farm Loan association met at the Farm Bureau office Friday, Sept. 12th. Present, Thomas Oxley, F. C. Trotter, F. C. Nickel, Roy B. McKinney. The secretary reported that loans totaling $88,100.00 had been closed to date, and that there was one application which would soon be closed. The secretary further reported that statements had been sent to all the borrowers for then organization expenses and that these obligations had been promptly met. It was further reported that a dividend calculated at eight percent, had been declared on the first eight loans closed. The directors present nominated R. L. Eymann of Jerseyville as director for the Federal Land bank from this district by casting 881 votes for him.

Meetings at Lake View and Bethel—The meetings at Lake View and Bethel where the farm bureau motion pictures were shown and testing for bovine tuberculosis, continued at the fine pace of those reported previously. At each place the school buildings were comfortably filled with men, women and children. Those present manifested their interest by asking questions in between the reels. At Bethel the enterprising boys and girls sold popcorn and pop in between the reels for the purpose of raising money to purchase a musical instrument. A goodly number of those present at both meetings have signed the agreement for the meeting tonight will be church, southeast of Murray.

SMOOTH PERFORMANCE

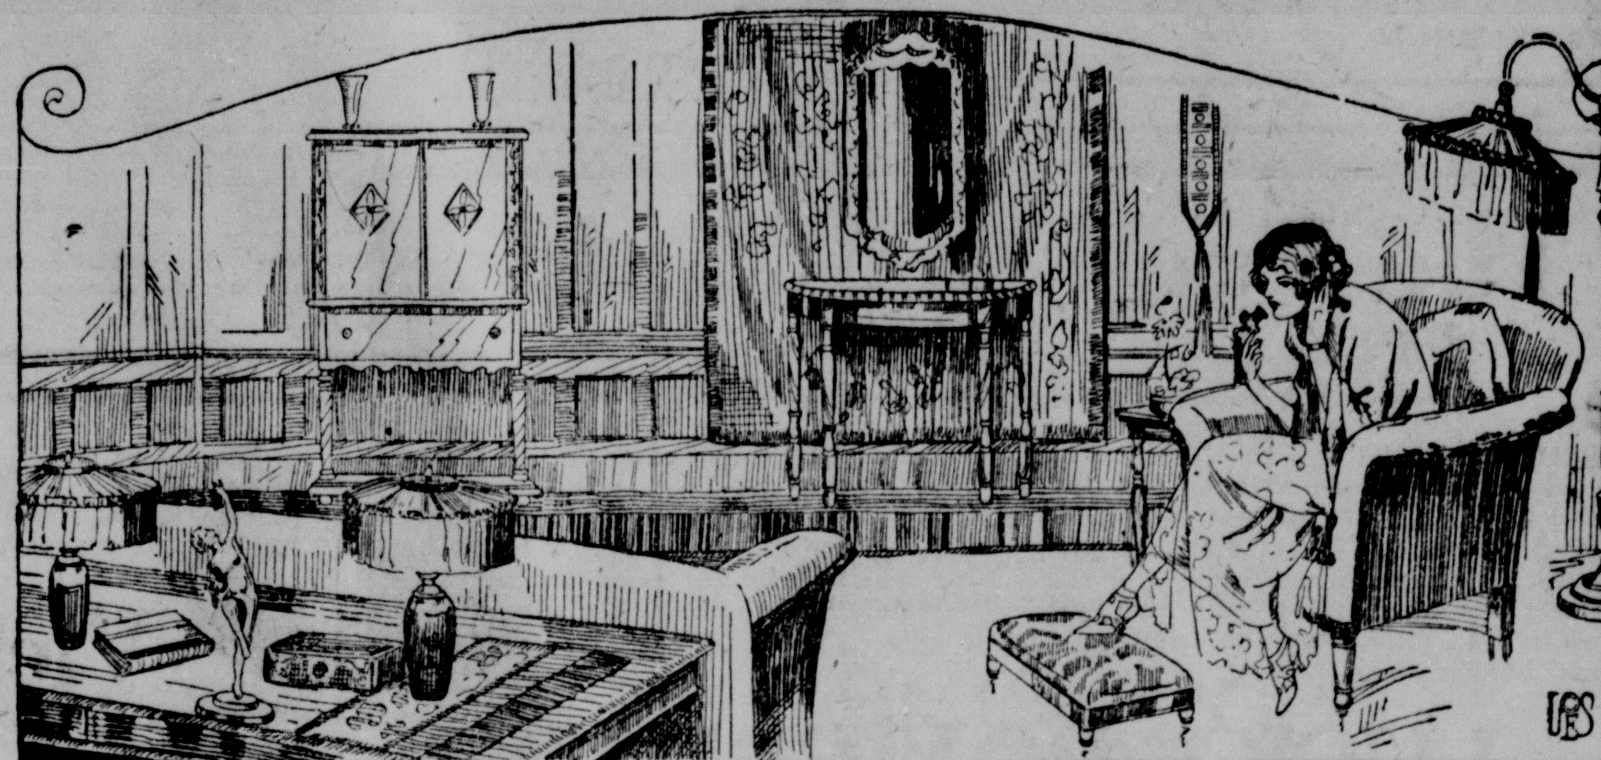

A marked smoothness characterizes the performance of Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

In keeping with the policy of constant improvement, effective measures have been taken to minimize vibration. Applied to the body, engine, clutch, brakes, and other vital units, these refinements add immeasurably to the comfort of travel over boulevards and country roads.

The effect is so pronounced, in fact, that it is entirely fitting to classify smooth performance as one of the outstanding attributes of Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

ARTISTS SERIES OFFERED AT WOMAN'S COLLEGE

College of Music Arranges Monday Evening Artists Series.

The attention of Jacksonville music lovers is called to the splendid Monday evening Artists' Series, which has been arranged by the College of Music for the season of 1924-25.

The course will be opened on Nov. 17, by Leo Ornstein, who is without doubt one of the most interesting pianists now before the public. As a pianist, this brilliant, young genius has reached the very topmost heights. One could quote pages and pages of laudatory opinions expressed by critics of both hemispheres. Distinctly, Mr. Ornstein is a vivid and inciting personality of the concert room.

OUR LUNCHEONETTE
Is now open. A nice variety of the dainty things you like.
AT MERRIGAN'S

Through all music played by him shines a clear individuality; a sympathetic fire; a clear intent; a departure from the conventional; that have kindled his imagination until he distinctly impresses the hearer, not only originality, but of such authority to give the conviction that he is right while many of the conventional pianists are wrong. Mr. Ornstein will appear with all the leading symphony orchestras this season, including the Boston and New York Philharmonic, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Baltimore, Los Angeles and Minneapolis. In his Jacksonville program, he will play his own impressions of China-town, which has created so much enthusiasm wherever it has been played.

The second number of the series will be given by Raymond Koch, new American Baritone. Mr. Koch is one of the finds in artists in the last few seasons. He first came to the public's notice in St. Louis, where his ability created for him the distinction of appearing in concerts of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, both locally and on tour. Mr. Rudolph Ganz, conductor of the St. Louis Symphony, says of Mr. Koch: "He has one of the most beautiful voices in the United States." Mr. Koch has appeared with many of the leading orchestras in the country; he sang at the Illinois Federation of Musical Clubs' State Convention in Jacksonville last spring and appeared at Winona Lake this summer, where the following artists made up the series: Louise Homer; Galli-Curci; Mischa Elman. Music lovers who heard Mr. Koch at the Federation Convention last spring, will not lose the opportunity of hearing him again.

Miss Lois Johnston, who will appear in the third number on January 19 is an American soprano. Miss Johnston has great personal charm and a voice of opulent tone and appealing emotional qualities which have brought her great success in the field of concert and oratorio work. She has appeared several times with the Mendelssohn Club, Chicago, and has given joint recitals with Gabrieli-Owitsch, the pianist and Albert Spaulding, the violinist. Miss Johnston was engaged to sing in our course two years ago, but on account of illness, could not appear.

The fourth and last number of the series will be given on February 23, by Willy Burmeister, who has for twenty-five years held spellbound audiences. To win the universal approval of the world's best critics a quarter of a century ago and to return and receive even greater tributes from even greater critics, that, in a few words, is the accomplishment of the world-famed Willy Burmeister. After an absence of almost twenty-five years, this master of the bow comes to America to receive anew the applause of music lovers, to gladden the hearts of those who know the true meaning of artistry—to bring from his violin a live Aria sung by voices not of this earth, as the Philadelphia Bulletin so aptly describes it. And when a critic with the reputation that Henry F. Finck, of the New York Evening Post, enjoys says that "Paganini could not have played better than did Burmeister," you begin to appreciate the wonderful ability of this wonderful artist. As a composer, no less than an artist, this world-famed genius stands forth; more than one hundred notable compositions for the violin having come from his pen, many of which have been contributed to the programs of other famous violinists of the world.

Surely no more noted and interesting group has ever been brought to Jacksonville and its surrounding territory and we feel sure that all who can possibly do so will hear every one of these unusual artists.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES
Mrs. Eloise Pitner has given the College a number of valuable books. Both Dr. and Mrs. Pitner have in years past remembered our library in a most generous way.
Mrs. Wallace N. Sterans has also placed in our library an exceedingly valuable set of Art books giving the history of the art of the most ancient nations. These books enlarge our library greatly.
Registration days will be Monday and Tuesday, September 15 and 16. The first chapel exercises will be held Wednesday morning at 9:00 o'clock, in Music Hall. The opening service is always of great interest, but this year it will be doubly so because of the presence of Dr. Paul Burnham, who is secretary of the Board of Education of the Disciples Church. Dr. Burnham is a protégé of President Harker and is well known in Jacksonville as he grew to manhood in Morgan county. Dr. Burnham will give the principle address. All friends of the college and especially those interested in hearing this eminent man are cordially invited to be present.
President Harker returned Saturday evening from Bloomington where he has been attending the sessions of the Illinois Conference, and where he read a paper on "A Century of Educational Progress in the Illinois Conference."
President and Mrs. Harker entertained the faculty Saturday evening in the social room. A brief session was held followed by a social hour. The following new members of the faculty were welcomed: Miss Florence Adecock, biology; Miss Florence N. Schott, chemistry; Miss Mary E. Burton, English; Miss Jessie F. Arnold, romance languages; Miss Hazel M. Riggs, history; Mrs. Alice Montcrieff, voice; and Miss Catherine Rose Larmer, piano.
The College Greetings will appear on the opening day with a special news sheet to welcome the incoming students. Miss Thelma Bennett has been busy with her assistants in getting out this edition.
This year there has been a marked increase in the students who are working for board and room in order to attend the college. A student loan fund was established a short time ago, and this is now being added to by friends who desire to leave memorials. One gift of $2,000 was received recently. This is a great field for those interested in helping young women through college, and is an especially sensible way to establish a permanent memorial.
Dean Austin returned Saturday noon from Delaware, Ohio, where she was called on account of the death of her brother, Dr. Cyrus B. Austin, who was vice president of Ohio Wesleyan and prominent for many years in the development of that university.
Miss Teague has returned to the college after spending the summer months in England, Scotland and France. Miss Teague and Miss Audrey King spent about six weeks in Grenoble, France, where they attended the university. Miss Teague took special work in Diction at the university. Miss King is at present at her home in Ottumwa, Iowa, and will enter the University of Illinois next week for graduate work.

NOW—It's Economy to Trade Your Old Tires For FULL-SIZE Firestone BALLOON GUM-DIPPED CORDS

BECAUSE Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords reduce your repair bills and lower fuel costs, increase tire mileage, car life and the resale value of your car.
These are strong statements but are backed by actual facts.
Balloon-equipped test cars and taxicabs have now been driven over 5,300,000 miles, under Firestone supervision and show reduction in fuel consumption, and less delay, because of fewer punctures and quicker starts and stops.
Many leading automobile makers have standardized on these full-size Balloons—pioneered by Firestone and made practical and economical through the special Firestone gum-dipping process.
Over 100,000 motorists are today using and enjoying the satisfaction of genuine, full-size Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords.
In fact, in three months the sales of Firestone Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords increased 590%.
Have your car equipped now—for comfort and for the safety of driving this Fall and Winter. Be prepared for mud holes, frozen ruts, dangerous snow and ice. We can equip your car immediately at the new low prices now in effect.

V. E. T. Smoker's Letter On Home-Brand Smoking Discussed by Oldtimer

Jacksonville, Illinois, September 12, 1924
Secretary, Cigarmakers Union, City.
Dear Sir:—
A group of us old fellows were sitting together up town the other day, discussing the weather, hay fever, crops, the automobile, the hard road bond issue, and other things—you know how it is—when one of the old chaps spoke up with: 'say, what do you think about this advertising that's been running for sometime, telling people that the cigar industry in old Jacksonville was badly shot because so many smokers had gone to buying cigars made away from here?'
Well, there was right smart of discussion for awhile for and against the idea, and one fellow asked if we read the letter in last week's paper signed by V. E. T. Smoker, and remarked that he thought he hit the nail square on the head and that any Jacksonville resident was a pretty poor sort of a booster if he didn't confine his smoking to home brands, particularly when the quality was so superior and the prices the same.
Well, that led to some more discussion and it was quick shown that to have a town you must have industries, and to keep the industries home folks must do their part.
Say, in that bunch that day
there were four who had been smoking outside cigars and who hadn't ever given the matter any thought either way, but when we got through they each bought a home cigar and said that was going to be their buy hereafter.
One of 'em did say he thought the brands ought to be advertised so a fellow wouldn't be fooled when he wasn't posted so very well on cigars and had always had the idea a smoke was a smoke, and that this was all there was to it.
Well, let the good work go on, and when you write to V. E. T. Smoker tell him we're with him and will try to convert a few on our own account.
